Workers Find Take-Home Pay Cut Despite Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — In spite of the tax relief voted by Congress last month, millions of Americans will find their take-home pay reduced after Jan. 16 by a bigger income tax bite out of their checks.

Congress has increased sharply the withholding rate, to make the amount of tax withheld by employers come closer to matching the employee's actual tax liability for the year.

That will correct the under-withholding which, for many taxpayers, has been a nuisance for years. For 1972 and thereafter, fewer middle- and upper-income taxpayers will have to mail quarterly estimated tax payments or make large lump-sum payments when they file their income tax returns.

This was a particular problem in 1971 for married couples in which both husband and wife work. The old withholding tables were geared to give them one too many low-income allowances; many will have to pay several hundred dollars on April 15 to get right with the Internal Revenue Service.

The change in the withholding tables was designed to correct that situation for the new tax year—and to give the Treasury the current use of an estimated $1 billion which formerly has been underwithheld in the course of each year.

But in correcting the under-withholding of one large group of taxpayers, Congress has complicated the financial problems of another large group by causing overwithholding.

Millions of taxpayers—particularly middle-income couples in which only the husband works, and those claiming large amounts of itemized deductions—will find the new withholding tables take too deep a bite.

The withholding increase is so large, in fact, that in many cases it will more than offset the paycheck benefits that Congress enacted last month in the form of higher personal exemptions and an increased standard deduction.

Taxpayers at the income level of $20,000 to $25,000 who claim itemized deductions of $4,000 to $5,000—fairly ordinary at that income level—may find themselves paying the government upwards of $50 a month more than they owe.

For the relief of such taxpayers the IRS has prepared a new form to be distributed by employers, called "Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate." By filling it out and returning it to his employer, he can adjust his year-long withholding to an amount roughly equivalent to his actual tax liability.

The new form carries a table showing how many "allowances" the taxpayer should claim—at $750 each, the new amount of the personal exemption—to insure that he is meeting his tax obligations throughout the year but not overpaying along the way.

Nonprescription Drugs Target Of FDA Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration today announced a three-year program to evaluate the safety and effectiveness of hundreds of thousands of nonprescription drugs.

The agency said its concern was illustrated by a recent review of 420 over-the-counter drugs by the National Academy of Sciences which concluded that only about one-fourth are effective.

The new program is similar to a 1966 review, recently completed, of 2,752 individual prescription drugs. Almost 15 per cent failed to live up to claims and 35 per cent were found to be only possibly effective.

"Because self-medication is essential to the nation's health-care system, it is imperative that the over-the-counter drugs be safe and effective and have fully informative labeling," said FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards.

Rather than tackle each of the 100,000 to 500,000 nonprescription drugs one at a time, and tie up court dockets and the FDA's staff for years, he said, the agency will utilize expert panels to evaluate ingredients, dosages and conditions for use for at least 26 basic classes of over-the-counter products.

The classes include antacids, laxatives, antiperspirants, sunburn products, vitamin-mineral products, dandruff products, mouthwashes, analgesics, sedatives, stimulants, antihistamines, cold remedies, contraceptives and menstrual products.

The panels will compose standards on active ingredients, labeling, warnings and directions for use. Each over-the-counter product would have to meet the standards, be reformulated, gain approval as a new drug or be taken off the market.

The first panel is expected to be organized by March 1 to review antacids, with a proposed standard anticipated around the end of July, the FDA said.

"The FDA," said Edwards, "is concerned that many present formulations do not have the claimed effectiveness, have inadequate instructions for effective use by the consumer or are promoted in deceptive and indefensible ways."

The FDA hopes that by proposing standards through rules, rather than court action, it can sidestep grandfather clauses in the 1938 Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act and the 1962 amendment exempting older products from new-drug requirements.

Announcement of the loss was delayed while search operations were under way, D'Entremont said.

The four helicopters were shot down Monday when they came to the aid of a 25-man patrol that was attacked near dusk in the jungles 40 miles northeast of Saigon. The command said one GI was killed and 13 were wounded in the attack. It was the biggest American ground action in more than a month. Enemy losses were not known.

The patrol was hit by a barrage of small arms and automatic weapons fire. The Americans moved back with their casualties, and teams of observation helicopters, rocket-firing gunships and medical evacuation helicopters were called in.

Enemy fire brought down three of the medical evacuation choppers and an observation helicopter. They suffered moderate to heavy damage, and one crewman was wounded.

Pay Board To Roll Back Aerospace Wage Boosts

Negotiations Open For Vocational School Location

Pickaway - Ross Joint Vocational Board voted their present slate of officers back into their posts and opened negotiations for land on which to build the new vocational high school.

Nelson Stevens of Pickaway County will again head the vocational board, this his third term in the office. He was appointed by his fellow board members during the board's second annual organization meeting held Monday evening. Gerald Radcliffe, a representative from Chillicothe City, was renamed to the vice-presidency.

Paul Hydel, superintendent of Chillicothe Schools will remain as acting clerk and James Shope, superintendent of Ross County Schools, will stay as acting superintendent until such time as the board employs two full time people in these jobs.

The joint school venture was put into full speed operation at the Monday night meeting, as the board, acting on the recommendation of the site selection committee, opened negotiations for site proposals, deciding upon a mid-February target date for all offers to be made.

Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Board will accept any offers from individuals, groups or organizations for the sale of land to be used for the new school. They should make their wishes known to James E. Shope, Acting Superintendent, at the Ross County Board of Education Office, 53 W. Fourth St. Chillicothe, Ohio 45601.

THE committee proposals stated that approximately 80 acres will be desired. Any site selected must have a free and clear title before it could be accepted.

All proposed sites for consideration must be presented in written form with a sale price per acre and any further information that would be of value in helping the committee and board of Education in (Continued on Page 2)

Move Marks First Time Action Taken

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board was expected to order its first wage rollback today, cutting a 12-per-cent raise for aerospace workers, probably to 8 per cent or less.

But it appeared to be an open question whether the board would honor its own new rule limiting all pay raises in new contracts to no more than 7 per cent, even in special circumstances.

Various sources said all 10 business and public members were determined to vote against the five labor members and order a cut of some amount. Not all of them, however, were reported ready to roll the aerospace raise back to 7 per cent.

On another matter, the board's five business members were reported ready to press for a legally binding regulation that would automatically cut off future pay raises in old contracts exceeding 7 per cent a year.

Business member Virgil Day, a General Electric Co. vice president, said the business members would propose such a regulation during meetings this week.

Last month the business members issued a blanket challenge of all deferred raises over 7 per cent, but under this procedure the board would have to order any rollbacks on a case-by-case basis that could swamp the panel with thousands of reviews.

The board's guidelines say raises in new contracts can't go over 5.5 per cent except in special cases that might warrant raises up to 7 per cent. Day said the rule to be proposed by business members would put the same 7-per-cent lid on deferred raises in contracts already agreed upon.

Last Dec. 21 the board debated far into the night without reaching a decision on contracts covering units of the United Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists at six aerospace firms.

All except one follow the pattern set in the AEW pact with North American Rockwell Corp., which contains a first-year raise of 51 cents in the $4.32 hourly average, an 11.8 per cent increase. The exception is the IAM pact with United Aircraft Corp. in Connecticut, where the union got only an 8-per-cent raise in the first year.

"The Pay Board's impasse over the aerospace settlement does not involve whether to cut it but by how much," Day said Monday.

Half Billion Misspent On Welfare, HEW Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government estimates it may be misspending $500 million a year on welfare, due to "honest mistakes" by overworked and inefficient state and local welfare agencies.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare disclosed at a news conference Monday that a preliminary survey last April indicated about 5 per cent of the nation's welfare families were ineligible for payments, and even more were paid too much or not enough.

Richard P. Nathan, HEW deputy undersecretary for welfare reform planning, said the figures indicate the need for prompt congressional action on the administration's welfare reform bill.

"These data don't completely reflect the problem today in welfare administration," he said. "If anything, the situation is worse."

Only one out of every five state and local welfare agencies are automated, Nathan said. "Mistakes, delays and abuses are inevitable under these conditions."

HEW officials said their survey, covering about half the nation's welfare caseload and admittedly subject to error, indicates the inadequacy of the present system.

They said the 5 per cent cited in the survey cost an estimated $168 million a year. Overpayments cost an additional $124 million, they said, and underpayments totaled $38 million.

"Most of the errors were identified as honest mistakes by state and local welfare agencies or by those who received the payment," an HEW official said.

More than half were agency errors. In many cases backlogged agencies did not reduce benefits promptly enough when a client reported an increase in outside income, the official said.

Women Now Guarding Mail, Probing Thefts And Frauds

LOS ANGELES (AP) — At the post office, mail chauvinism has joined such bygones as the six-cent stamp and the two-cent post card.

Women, who've been sorting and totting the mail for years, are now guarding it as well and investigating postal thefts and frauds.

The Postal Service has 52 women among the 1,300 security guards nationwide. The first was a 27-year-old former judo instructor, Kathryn Prime, who went to work in Philadelphia in December 1970. Los Angeles has nine women guards and is recruiting more.

The need for women guards stems from the large number of women postal employees, said a Postal Service spokesman in Washington. The women guards are able to frisk women suspects, have access to women's rest rooms and keep track of demonstrators outside the buildings.

Women also are becoming postal inspectors. The first two women inspectors in the 234-year history of the service were sworn in at ceremonies in Washington Dec. 17.

The women train alongside the men during a three-week course at the University of Oklahoma. After graduation they earn the same pay as men—about $7,500 a year—wear blue uniforms, visor caps and a butterfly tie and carry a .38-caliber pistol.

"I hope I don't ever have to use it," said Darlene Willoughby, 30, one of 17 women guards in the San Francisco-Oakland area. She said authorities give the women the easier office duties and won't let them guard a high-value mail delivery alone.

Al Burdick, chief security officer for the Los Angeles division, says he has no qualms about women guards.

"In this capacity they work very well," Burdick said.

"The male guards have never complained. In fact, they complement each other because if there is a purse to be searched the women do it. It softens the approach."

Red China Sees U.S. Lesser Of Two Evils

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

If Peking's propaganda is a guide, Communist China's leaders have conjured up a bad dream for themselves and have concluded that if two foreign devils haunt them the one closer at hand is by far the more ominous.

What Peking is saying seems to lend substance to President Nixon's expressed hope for better relations with mainland China. He said Sunday night he did not expect anything approaching resumed diplomatic relations, but he did hope that his February visit to Peking would produce "normalization in terms of setting up some method of communication better than we currently have."

Communists, living in their own world of double talk, do not always say what they mean, but Peking seems agitated about Soviet intentions as it reads them. This involves something like a huge Soviet noose looped about much of that so-called third world of "medium-sized and small nations" in Asia and Africa for which Peking now claims to speak.

As Red China puts it, the Russians are reverting to type, acting like the czars of old trying to establish "a world empire." Peking insists that Soviet activity in the Asian subcontinent is connected with a scheme to build "a sealane arch" that would extend from the Mediterranean and Black seas in a southward-dropping semicircle through the Red Sea, the Arabian Sea, the Indian Ocean, the Bay of Bengal, around Southeast Asia and up to the Sea of Japan.

That, said a recent article cleared by the official Red Chinese news agency, is why Moscow is so deeply involved in arms aid to India and why the Soviet fleet has shown the flag all along the Arabian Sea and Indian Ocean.

"To turn India into an important base for its expansion in the Indian Ocean, Soviet revisionism has been vigorously bolstering up the Indian reactionaries for years," said the article. Moscow, it said, regarded the Indian-Pakistani war as a good chance to step up Soviet expansion in the Indian Ocean and "further its control of India."

Clearly, the suggestion in all this was that China regarded Russia as the major threat. If the Russian appetite was what Peking seemed to think it was, China alone would be in a poor position to challenge Soviet aims in South and Southeast Asia. But China with communication open to the United States would be better off if only because of an enormous implicit American potential to tip the balance politically or militarily.

There could be dividends for the Americans, too, in easing China's two decades of implacable hostility toward the United States.

President Nixon said his adviser, Henry Kissinger, in his trips to Peking to arrange for the presidential visit, had raised with Premier Chou En-lai the question of American war prisoners in North Vietnam. The President said he, too, intended to raise the question next month.

This issue can well be the major logjam in the way of an Indochina settlement. If China in fact sees the Soviet Union straining for domination of all Asia, it would seem logical for Peking to establish more meaningful communication with Washington. One way of doing this could be to act as broker between the Americans and the North Vietnamese.

Middletown Workers Ratify Contract

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — The city's sanitation and street maintenance employees have ratified a two-year contract calling for hourly wage hikes of about 20 cents in 1972.

The members of Local 856 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees voted approval of the agreement Sunday after having been without a contract since midnight Friday. Negotiations had continued.

Bloodmobile Visit Slated Thursday

A Negative Needed For Open-Heart Surgery Patient

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will pay its first visit to Pickaway County for 1972 Thursday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Community United Methodist Church.

Donors who gave blood at the Nov. 5 visit will be eligible at this visit if they have made less than five donations within the past 12 months.

Blood usage by County residents has been quite heavy during the past few weeks, due to serious injuries and open-heart surgeries. Friends and relations of these patients are encouraged to make replacements at this visit.

The Red Cross Chapter is recruiting A Negative blood donors for an open-heart surgery at University Hospital on Jan. 10. Dr. Melanie Kennedy, Medical Director of the Central Ohio Red Cross Blood center is making the request for the patient, who is a 60 year old lady. Prospective donors are requested to bring their donor cards when visiting the unit.

Donors are requested to make an appointment in order to avoid waiting in line. Call 474-5736.

Claim Nixon Sidestepped POW Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and a California congressman, both of whom have talked to the North Vietnamese in Paris, say President Nixon is trying to deceive the American people on the prisoner-of-war issue.

McGovern, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, told a news conference Monday that North Vietnam would release American POWs in exchange for a deadline U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam.

Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., said Nixon's Vietnam statements to CBS correspondent Dan Rather in a televised interview Sunday contained "a fantastic reversal of the truth" about the issue of trading the prisoners and the safety of withdrawing troops for a U.S. withdrawal deadline.

Leggett quoted Nixon as saying when the question of a trade was "floated out this fall, the North Vietnamese totally rejected it."

"Far from rejecting this trade," Leggett said, "the other side has explicitly offered to do it. They offered it to me in private on May 31 of last year, and again at the official negotiating table on July 1."

"They've repeated the offer at the table more times than I can count."

Nonprescription Drugs Target Of FDA Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration today announced a three-year program to evaluate the safety and effectiveness of hundreds of thousands of nonprescription drugs.

The agency said its concern was illustrated by a recent review of 420 over-the-counter drugs by the National Academy of Sciences which concluded that only about one-fourth are effective.

The new program is similar to a 1966 review, recently completed, of 2,752 individual prescription drugs. Almost 15 per cent failed to live up to claims and 35 per cent were found to be only possibly effective.

"Because self-medication is essential to the nation's health-care system, it is imperative that the over-the-counter drugs be safe and effective and have fully informative labeling," said FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards.

Rather than tackle each of the 100,000 to 500,000 nonprescription drugs one at a time, and tie up court dockets and the FDA's staff for years, he said, the agency will utilize expert panels to evaluate ingredients, dosages and conditions for use for at least 26 basic classes of over-the-counter products.

The classes include antacids, laxatives, antiperspirants, sunburn products, vitamin-mineral products, dandruff products, mouthwashes, analgesics, sedatives, stimulants, antihistamines, cold remedies, contraceptives and menstrual products.

The panels will compose standards on active ingredients, labeling, warnings and directions for use. Each over-the-counter product would have to meet the standards, be reformulated, gain approval as a new drug or be taken off the market.

The first panel is expected to be organized by March 1 to review antacids, with a proposed standard anticipated around the end of July, the FDA said.

"The FDA," said Edwards, "is concerned that many present formulations do not have the claimed effectiveness, have inadequate instructions for effective use by the consumer or are promoted in deceptive and indefensible ways."

The FDA hopes that by proposing standards through rules, rather than court action, it can sidestep grandfather clauses in the 1938 Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act and the 1962 amendment exempting older products from new-drug requirements.

Patriots Travel Club Organized

The Patriots Travel Club, an organization founded to continue the historic tours of Washington D. C. begun many years ago by the late Ruth Stout, plans to conduct two of the tours this summer.

Doyle Wiggins, Route 4, is conducting the tours and acting as director. Knight Travel Service, 206 S. Court St., is handling travel arrangements.

Wiggins, a teacher at George McDowell Exchange School, Logan Elm School District, was one of thousands of students fortunate enough to have been a member of Miss Stout's tours.

He made two trips while a junior high student at Washington Twp. School.

Miss Stout received a Valley Forge Freedoms Foundation Award for the tours she conducted each summer.

The first tour this summer is scheduled to begin June 5 and the second June 12. Wiggins said a 5-day trip has been arranged by Knight Travel service to enable tour members ample time to visit historical sites, national shrines and government buildings in Washington.

The director hopes to fill tours with eighth grade students. He may be contacted at his home, 474-3047 after school hours.

Set Resumption Of Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam today accepted a Communist proposal to hold a session of the Vietnam peace talks on Thursday after a four-week suspension.

The United States called off the weekly meetings on Dec. 16 and Dec. 23, saying it wanted to give North Vietnam and the Viet Cong more time to consider their position in hopes they would enter into serious negotiations.

Both sides canceled the Dec. 30 meeting because of the heavy U.S. air attack on North Vietnam last week. Each side accused the other of taking wrongful military action.

Jet Spreads Radioactivity In Five States

Dayton, Columbus Airports Visited By Same Plane

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A leaky package of radioactive medical isotopes contaminated a Delta Air Lines jetliner which then spread the radioactivity to airports in five states last weekend. Atomic Energy Commission officials say there is no apparent health hazard.

"We're systematically going about proving what we think is the case—that no one was hurt by it," said G. H. Giboney, scientist in the AEC's Savannah River operations office in Aiken, S.C.

Delta officials in Atlanta reported Monday that the leakage occurred Friday in a shipment of 80 curies of molybdenum being flown from Kennedy Airport in New York to Houston, Tex. A curie is a measure of radioactivity.

The same plane, a 96-passenger Convair 440, then made eight more passenger flights with stops in five states before the contamination was detected and the plane was withdrawn from service for decontamination.

John Davis, director of the AEC office in Atlanta, said that while some radiation seeped from the baggage area, the passenger compartment was "basically clean."

The level of contamination measured in the luggage compartment was not much more than would be found in a physician's X-ray room, Giboney said.

The subsequent passenger flights made by the contaminated plane, on Saturday and Sunday, included stops in Miami, Tampa, Fla., West Palm Beach, Fla., Atlanta, Dayton, Ohio, Columbus, Ohio, Louisville, Ky., and Chicago.

Young Ohio Wife Kills Son, Herself

FAIR HAVEN, N.J. (AP)—Despondent over domestic problems, a young Ohio housewife shot her one-year-old son to death then turned the gun on herself at her parents' home here Monday, police said.

The woman, Mrs. Leslie Brown, 27, died two hours later at Riverview Hospital in Red Bank, according to Police Chief Carl Jacoby.

Jacoby said Mrs. Brown was found on a bedroom floor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas. Her son, Matthew, was found in his crib.

Each had a single bullet wound in the head, Jacoby said. On the floor was a .32 caliber Colt revolver.

The discovery, he said, was made by her father on his return from work.

The child was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Rolf Lemp.

According to Jacoby, Mrs. Brown was born here, but moved to Columbus, Ohio, three years ago when she married.

Jacoby said she returned to her parents' home Friday without her husband. He quoted her parents as saying she was very despondent. Her husband, Stephen, worked for the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Columbus.

Mattress Firm Hit By Robbers

MASON, Ohio (AP) — A security guard was beaten early today in a holdup at the Stearns & Foster Co., a mattress production firm. Ohio Highway Patrolmen and officers from Warren and surrounding counties searched the area for "three or four" men.

Company spokesmen said the men apparently entered the plant between 3:30 and 4 a.m. and took an estimated $100 from an office and vending machines.

Authorities said the men slugged and tied up Edward Murphy, about 50, the security guard. He was treated and released at Bethesda-North Hospital in Cincinnati.

Reorganization Meetings Held By County Schools

All boards of education within the county reorganized for the 1972 term during special sessions Monday evening, excluding Logan Elm which held its annual assembly to reestablish its five-member council on its regular meeting date.

LOGAN ELM
The oath of office was administered to the new member, Mrs. Virginia Wood. Board members then unanimously elected Donald Bower as president and Roger Hobbie as vice president.

Regular meetings will be held by the board throughout 1972 on the first Monday of every month beginning 7:30 p.m. November through March and 8 p.m. for the remainder of the year.

Temporary appropriations for 1972 were approved totalling $985,328.13 or approximately $90,000 less than last year's figure. This was done because of the decrease in revenue which the district is experiencing from several sources.

THE board plans to increase the cost of school lunches a nickel each beginning Jan. 10 since the revenue loss prevents the board from subsidizing cafeteria operation from the general fund. Students in grades one through six will pay 35 cents, seven through twelve 40 cents and adults 55 cents.

Connection was made before 10 a.m. today of water through the new Earnhart Water District to the Logan Elm High School and McDowell Exchange building. Installation of a new furnace is almost completed at the Saltcreek building.

Board members voted to apply for Title III funds, seeking some $2,500 which they plan to use for purchase of music instruments and audio visual equipment.

At 3 p.m. Wednesday, all teachers in the Logan Elm District will meet with Joseph Fisher, of the Division of Special Education, to discuss characteristics of children who are candidates for intensive instruction in one particular area. The session is to help local teachers learn to identify the student with this problem and offer him help in special courses.

Members of the Logan Elm Board are Bower, Hobbie, Virginia C. Woods, Charles Jones and Carolyn McCoy.

WESTFALL
James Dean, Williamsport, recently elected to the Westfall Board of Education, was installed as a new member Monday evening and appointed by his fellow members as

'Cannonball' Too Large

LEICESTER, England (AP) — Steve Smith made his first and last flight as a human cannonball Monday. He was too big for the cannon.

Showman Joe Weston had hired the 210-pound, 22-year-old stunt man to be shot from his new 16-foot cannon. Wearing goggles and helmet, Smith climbed into the gun for a tryout in a gravel pit. A one-pound charge of gelignite was set off.

Smith took off and so did half the cannon barrel. Both landed 10 feet away in a pool of water. The other half of the gun backfired, wrecking the rack that was its launching pad.

"Never again," said Smith, wading ashore. "It's the last time I travel that way."

"He's too heavy," said Webb. "He should have flown 60 feet."

It's going to cost Webb $250 to repair the cannon.

president of the school board. Vice president is Mrs. Jeanne Lett, Route 1, Orient.

THE oath of office was given to Dean and two other new members of the board: Bruce Stevenson and Cooke Metzger. Regular meetings of the board during 1972 will be held on the third Monday of every month beginning 8 p.m. in the Westfall High School library.

Williamsport Branch of the First National Bank of Circleville was continued as the depository of all school funds for 1972. Dean who also positioned as a member of the Athletic Advisory Board.

A tentative 1972 budget was passed, with final action on the money bill expected at the March meeting. The temporary budget was for $1,039,037.99. The board elected to continue affiliation with the Ohio School Boards Association.

Under the new state law which mandates a new salary schedule for teachers and noncertificated employees, the board voted an increase on all pay checks to meet the requirements effective Jan. 1. Members also agreed to issue supplementary checks for retroactive pay which had been halted by Phase I of the President's economic plan.

Members of the board in attendance were Mrs. Lett, Eugene Bush, Dean, Metzger, Stevenson and clerk Kenneth Reid.

TEAYS VALLEY
Everett Beers and Harold Peters and Janet Bluck were sworn in as members of the Teays Valley Board of Education during a Monday evening session. Before progressing to current business up for their consideration, members voted to seat Beers as board president for 1972 with Peters as his vice president. All regular meetings of the board were set for the fourth Monday of each month beginning 8 p.m. in the board room at TVHS.

BASIC appropriations for the new fiscal year were discussed and a temporary appropriation measure adopted amounting to $1,775,251.48.

A resignation was accepted from Mrs. Judy Stucky, part-time custodian at Walnut, effective 1972. Her replacement will be Mrs. Clarence Gray.

JoAnn Morrison, high school guidance counselor, offered her resignation to move with her husband to Fairbanks, Alaska, where her husband is now stationed.

Retroactive earnings will be presented to all employees in the form of a supplemental paycheck for that portion of a salary increase which was withheld under the wage freeze.

Members again refused all bids on the 1970 and 1971 stationwagons as being too low. They set a minimum price on both vehicles and will offer them to all previous bidders again. This was the second bid on the stationwagons.

A motion to join the Ohio School Boards Assn. was tabled until the regular January meeting, when Dr. Jack Warner is attending. Warner missed the organizational meeting since he is vacationing in South Africa.

selecting the final site for the proposed school.

It has tentatively been agreed upon that a site near the geographical center of the school district, with regard to the student population, would be given prime consideration. This area would probably include an area north of Chillicothe and south of Circleville, bounded on the east by State Route 159 and on the west by State Route 104.

Members of the site selection committee are Paul W. Gearhart, Route 1, Chillicothe; Homer Beath, Chillicothe; Forrest Brown, 124 N. Scioto St.; Nelson Jones, Route 4 and Vernie Stahr, Route 1, Rockbridge.

Authorization was given for Shope and Hydel, to enter into a contract with the State Department of Education to claim the district's share of matching funds for construction and operation. The board had received notification from the state that matching funds were available locally for the project which could get underway immediately.

The final action of the State Department of Education will be made Feb. 14 by the Ohio board.

Patriots Travel Club Organized

The Patriots Travel Club, an organization founded to continue the historic tours of Washington D. C. begun many years ago by the late Ruth Stout, plans to conduct two of the tours this summer.

Doyle Wiggins, Route 4, is conducting the tours and acting as director. Knight Travel Service, 206 S. Court St., is handling travel arrangements.

Wiggins, a teacher at George McDowell Exchange School, Logan Elm School District, was one of thousands of students fortunate enough to have been a member of Miss Stout's tours. He made two trips while a junior high student at Washington Twp. School.

Miss Stout received a Valley Forge Freedom Foundation Award for the tours she conducted each summer.

The first tour this summer is scheduled to begin June 5 and the second June 12. Wiggins said a 5-day trip has been arranged by Knight Travel Service to enable tour members ample time to visit historical sites, national shrines and government buildings in Washington.

The director hopes to fill tours with eighth grade students. He may be contacted at his home, 474-3047 after school hours.

Set Resumption Of Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam today accepted a Communist proposal to hold a session of the Vietnam peace talks on Thursday after a four-week suspension.

The United States called off the weekly meetings on Dec. 16 and Dec. 23, saying it wanted to give North Vietnam and the Viet Cong more time to consider their position in hopes they would enter into serious negotiations.

Both sides canceled the Dec. 30 meeting because of the heavy U.S. air attack on North Vietnam last week. Each side accused the other of taking wrongful military action.

Jet Spreads Radioactivity In Five States

Dayton, Columbus Airports Visited By Same Plane

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A leaky package of radioactive medical isotopes contaminated a Delta Air Lines jetliner which then spread the radioactivity to airports in five states last weekend. Atomic Energy Commission officials say there is no apparent health hazard.

"We're systematically going about proving what we think is the case—that no one was hurt by it," said G. H. Giboney, scientist in the AEC's Savannah River operations office in Aiken, S.C.

Delta officials in Atlanta reported Monday that the leakage occurred Friday in a shipment of 80 curies of molybdenum being flown from Kennedy Airport in New York to Houston, Tex. A curie is a measure of radioactive matter.

The same plane, a 96-passenger Convair 880, then made eight more passenger flights with stops in five states before the contamination was detected and the plane was withdrawn from service for decontamination.

John Davis, director of the AEC office in Atlanta, said that while some radiation seeped from the baggage area, the passenger compartment was "basically clean."

The level of contamination measured in the luggage compartment was not much more than would be found in a physician's X-ray room, Giboney said.

The subsequent passenger flights made by the contaminated plane, on Saturday and Sunday, included stops in Miami, Tampa, Fla., West Palm Beach, Fla., Atlanta, Dayton, Ohio, Columbus, Ohio, Louisville, Ky., and Chicago.

Young Ohio Wife Kills Son, Herself

FAIR HAVEN, N.J. (AP)—Despondent over domestic problems, a young Ohio housewife shot her one-year-old son to death then turned the gun on herself at her parents' home here Monday, police said.

The woman, Mrs. Leslie Brown, 27, died two hours later at Riverview Hospital in Red Bank, according to Police Chief Carl Jacoby.

Jacoby said Mrs. Brown was found on a bedroom floor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas. Her son, Matthew, was found in his crib.

Each had a single bullet wound in the head, Jacoby said. On the floor was a .32 caliber Colt revolver.

The discovery, he said, was made by her father on his return from work.

The child was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Rolf Lemp.

According to Jacoby, Mrs. Brown was born here, but moved to Columbus, Ohio, three years ago when she married.

Jacoby said she returned to her parents' home Friday with out her husband. He quoted her parents as saying she was very despondent. Her husband, Stephen, worked for the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Columbus.

Mattress Firm Hit By Robbers

MASON, Ohio (AP) — A security guard was beaten early today in a holdup at the Stearns & Foster Co., a mattress production firm, Ohio Highway Patrolmen and officers from Warren and surrounding counties searched the area for "three or four" men.

Company spokesmen said the men apparently entered the plant between 3:30 and 4 a.m. and took an estimated $100 from an office and vending machines.

Authorities said the men slugged and tied up Edward Murphy, about 50, the security guard. He was treated and released at Bethesda-North Hospital in Cincinnati.

Reorganization Meetings Held By County Schools

All boards of education within the county reorganized for the 1972 term during special sessions Monday evening, excluding Logan Elm which held its annual assembly to reestablish its five-member council on its regular meeting date.

LOGAN ELM

The oath of office was administered to the new member, Mrs. Virginia Wood. Board members then unanimously elected Donald Bower as president and Roger Hobbie as vice president.

Regular meetings will be held by the board throughout 1972 on the first Monday of every month beginning 7:30 p.m. November through March and 8 p.m. for the remainder of the year.

Temporary appropriations for 1972 were approved totalling $985,328.13 or approximately $90,000 less than last year's figure. This was done because of the decrease in revenue which the district is experiencing from several sources.

THE board plans to increase the cost of school lunches a nickel each beginning Jan. 10 since the revenue loss prevents the board from subsidizing cafeteria operation from the general fund. Students in grades one through six will pay 35 cents, seven through twelve 40 cents and adults 55 cents.

Connection was made before 10 a.m. today of water through the new Earnhart Water District to the Logan Elm High School and McDowell Exchange building. Installation of a new furnace is almost completed at the Saltcreek building.

Board members voted to apply for Title III funds, seeking some $2,500 which they plan to use for purchase of music instruments and audio visual equipment.

At 3 p.m. Wednesday, all teachers in the Logan Elm District will meet with Joseph Fisher, of the Division of Special Education, to discuss characteristics of children who are candidates for intensive instruction in one particular area. The session is to help local teachers learn to identify the student with this problem and offer him help in special courses.

Members of the Logan Elm Board are Bower, Hobbie, Virginia C. Woods, Charles Jones and Carolyn McCoy.

WESTFALL

James Dean, Williamsport, recently elected to the Westfall Board of Education, was installed as a new member Monday evening and appointed by his fellow members as

'Cannonball' Too Large

LEICESTER, England (AP) — Steve Smith made his first and last flight as a human cannonball Monday. He was too big for the cannon.

Showman Joe Weston had hired the 210-pound, 22-year-old stunt man to be shot from his new 16-foot cannon. Wearing goggles and helmet, Smith climbed into the gun for a tryout in a gravel pit. A one-pound charge of gelignite was set off.

Smith took off and so did half the cannon barrel. Both landed 10 feet away in a pool of water. The other half of the gun backed-fired, wrecking the rack that was its launching pad.

"Never again," said Smith, wading ashore. "It's the last time I travel that way."

"He's too heavy," said Webb. "He should have flown 60 feet."

It's going to cost Webb $260 to repair the cannon.

president of the school board. Vice president is Mrs. Jeanne Lett, Route 1, Orient.

THE oath of office was given to Dean and two other new members of the board: Bruce Stevenson and Cooke Metzger. Regular meetings of the board during 1972 will be held on the third Monday of every month beginning 8 p.m. in the Westfall High School library.

Williamsport Branch of the First National Bank of Circleville was continued as the depository of all school funds for 1972. Dean who also positioned as a member of the Athletic Advisory Board.

A tentative 1972 budget was passed, with final action on the money bill expected at the March meeting. The temporary budget was for $1,039,037.99. The board elected to continue affiliation with the Ohio School Boards Association.

Under the new state law which mandates a new salary schedule for teachers and noncertificated employees, the board voted an increase on all paychecks to meet the requirements effective Jan. 1. Members also agreed to issue supplementary checks for retroactive pay which had been halted by Phase I of the President's economic plan.

Members of the board in attendance were Mrs. Lett, Eugene Bush, Dean, Metzger, Stevenson and clerk Kenneth Reid.

TEAYS VALLEY

Everett Beers and Harold Peters and Janet Bluck were sworn in as members of the Teays Valley Board of Education during a Monday evening session. Before progressing to current business up for their consideration, members voted to seat Beers as board president for 1972 with Peters as his vice president. All regular meetings of the board were set for the fourth Monday of each month beginning 8 p.m. in the board room at TVHS.

BASIC appropriations for the new fiscal year were discussed and a temporary appropriation measure adopted amounting to $1,773,251.48.

A resignation was accepted from Mrs. Judy Stucky, part-time custodian at Walnut, effective 1972. Her replacement will be Mrs. Clarence Gray.

JoAnn Morrison, high school guidance counselor, offered her resignation to move with her husband to Fairbanks, Alaska, where her husband is now stationed.

Retroactive earnings will be presented to all employees in the form of a supplemental paycheck for that portion of a salary increase which was withheld under the wage freeze.

Members again refused all bids on the 1970 and 1971 stationwagons as being too low. They set a minimum price on both vehicles and will offer them to all previous bidders again. This was the second bid on the stationwagons.

A motion to join the Ohio School Boards Assn. was tabled until the regular January meeting, when Dr. Jack Warner is attending. Warner missed the organizational meeting since he is vacationing in South Africa.

THE district will attempt to receive additional funds for the schools under the ADC program since new legislation makes Teays Valley eligible. Federal funds which have boosted TV funds for years because of students attending schools

It has tentatively been agreed upon that a site near the geographical center of the school district, with regard to the student population, would be given prime consideration. This area would probably include an area north of Chillicothe and south of Circleville, bounded on the east by State Route 159 and on the west by State Route 104.

Members of the site selection committee are Paul W. Gearhart, Route 1, Chillicothe; Homer Beath, Chillicothe; Forrest Brown, 124 N. Scioto St.; Nelson Jones, Route 4 and Vernie Stahr, Route 1, Rockbridge.

Authorization was given for Shope and Hydel, to enter into a contract with the State Department of Education to claim the district's share of matching funds for construction and operation. The board had received notification from the state that matching funds were available locally for the project which could get underway immediately.

The final action of the State Department of Education will be made Feb. 14 by the Ohio board.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

You Need A Higher Stack Of Bibles

DEAR ABBY: Please, no names or cities on this. I am a 51-year-old widow. I'm considered attractive. I have no family responsibilities as my only child is married.

I have dated a number of eligible men, but there is one I care for above all the others. He's 57, but looks much younger. We've been dating for about six months, and I know he cares for me, too. He has been an absolute angel and a perfect gentleman. Last night he told me he loved me, but would not propose marriage because he had had surgery a few years ago which terminated his sex life.

I told him it didn't matter to me because I never placed much importance on sex anyway, which is the God's honest truth!

He said I was only being "kind", and in a few years I would feel "cheated". I swore to him on a stack of Bibles that I meant what I said. How can I convince this wonderful man that I want to marry him?

WILLING WIDOW
DEAR WILLING: Get a higher stack of Bibles.

DEAR ABBY: The boy I like a lot has a reputation for being wild, but Tony really is a swell kid. Abby. People just don't understand him. Tony was thrown out of school for kicking a substitute teacher in the cafeteria. But the kids who saw it said she was trying to stick a flower in his hair. (His hair is quite long.)

Tony's parents came to school and caused a big stink so he is back in school on "trial" now, but my folks forbid me to have anything to do with him. They won't even let me see him. He's learned his lesson and he will not do anything wrong in the future.

TONY'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: People are judged on their past performance, not on their future intentions. Tell Tony to start building a record of good behavior if he wants to see you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old man. Unmarried. I know I sometimes make those around me uncomfortable because I am so compulsive about order, perfection, and cleanliness. For instance, the money in my wallet must be arranged with the larger bills on one side, progressing to the smaller ones. The suits in my closet must all be facing in the same direction, and my shoes have to line up perfectly. I will spend half an hour crawling around on my bathroom floor, looking for lint or hair you would need a magnifying glass to find.

I would like to get married, but I always find something wrong with the girl. Do you think perhaps the reason no girl can qualify is because deep down I am afraid a wife and family may clutter up my otherwise orderly life? Please tell me if you think my problem is serious enough to consult a psychiatrist?

NEAT AND ORDERLY
DEAR NEAT: If anyone asks if he should get professional help, I always note yes. Better to seek it and not need it, than to need it and not seek it.

Connally Named Best-Dressed

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally has succeeded President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as the best-dressed statesman, in the view of the Fashion Foundation of America.

The foundation's list of the best-dressed for the coming year, released Sunday, also included:

Lawman, New York Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy; television, Johnny Carson; civic affairs, Mayor Charles P. McCarty of St. Paul, Minn.; music, band leader Doc Severinsen; government, presidential assistant Henry Kissinger; sports, boxer Muhammad Ali; communication, television newsman Walter Cronkite; and international society, Aristotle Onassis.

No Fatal Accidents On Ohio Turnpike

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — For the 17th straight year, there was no fatal accident on the Ohio Turnpike during the New Year holiday period despite a record number of vehicles on the toll road.

A spokesman for the turnpike commission said traffic reached a total of 219,300 vehicles from Dec. 30 through Jan. 2, compared to the previous high of 197,048 vehicles during the similar four-day period a year ago.

Young Farmers See Need To Either Expand Or Founder

Note: With determination and enough acreage, some family farmers are wrestling a living from the land. Others, caught in more marginal operations, rely on outside jobs to survive. In the second of a two-part series, AP Farm Writer Don Kendall takes a look at family farmers.

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
CORRECTIONVILLE, Iowa (AP) — Part of the land Dave Holcomb works in this hilly country of western Iowa has been in his family for three generations and Holcomb is determined to keep and expand his spread.

Confronted like most farmers with a continuing squeeze from rising production costs and problems of record crops and depressed market prices, Holcomb offers a double-edged recipe for survival: growth and efficiency.

"The guy who's most efficient, the best manager, is the one who's staying. Maybe a guy was good 10 years ago, but if he hasn't kept up, he's going out," Holcomb said.

Plenty of family farmers like Holcomb haven't survived. There are fewer than 2.9 million farms in the United States, less than half the number 30 years ago. By 1980 another million will go out of business, swallowed up by larger operations, the Agriculture Department said recently.

Most of the larger family farmers interviewed by The Associated Press held views similar to Holcomb's about efficiency and growth and virtually all expressed determination to be in farming 10 years from now.

While it is difficult to categorize farmers, Holcomb belongs to a breed of intense, ambitious men who believe devotion to work on the land and good management plus the advantage of sound credit can overcome most obstacles.

Unlike the smaller, low-income farmer, Holcomb, working out plans for his moderate-size herd of 350 cattle, has fairly bright prospects.

He raised a bumper corn crop this year of more than 20,000 bushels, about five times his 1970 output, but even so will buy more corn for feed if the price is right.

Farmers who raise corn to sell as grain have been hit hard by lower prices this fall, down as much as 50 cents a bushel from a year ago when blight and drought shortened the crop. At an average 95 cents a bushel, the experts say, farmers are not even getting expenses back.

If Holcomb and other cattle feeders can buy grain at the lower prices, beef production can be expected to jump substantially, to the delight of consumers.

But if cattle output soars too much, prices will drop and hurt producers severely. A lot depends on grain exports, prospects for 1972 grain production and what the Nixon administration does in the next few months to help bolster grain prices.

The corn-cattle situation, with hogs thrown in for good measure, is a critical part of the current farm problem.

To make a go of things, Holcomb, in every sense a family farmer, employs no regular hired labor. Except for some help from a cousin for field work, he does all his own work with his own machinery. His wife and their three children live in a remodeled frame house on the farm.

One of the traits of farmers who seem to be making it despite the ills of their marketing and price system is a willingness, a drive, to grow larger and larger. Holcomb is no exception.

An ancestor operated the farm as an 80-acre unit for many years. When Dave was born the farm was 160 acres.

Today Holcomb, at 31 two decades younger than the average American farmer, operates 500 acres, most of it acquired by him or his late father since the 1950s.

One category of farmer with little hope to expand is the small, low-income farmer who gets very little of his annual income from the land. Most of it comes from jobs off the farm, performed by either him or his wife on a part-time basis.

Holcomb has no wish for that. Farming is his full-time occupation.

But Holcomb is young. A lot of farmers are getting old and will die on their farms. Others, including some whose rented land has been sold when an owner has died, must move on. That is happening to one farmer, a man in his late 50s, in central Illinois.

"I'm about eight years from Social Security," he said, asking not to be identified. "What do I do?"

The man did not know. He had worked a rented 200-acre farm for 20 years. But now the landlord was dead and the family was selling. Next spring the dispossessed renter—he knew of no other farm to rent—will sell his machinery, hogs, a few cattle and look for work.

"Maybe in Peoria, but I don't know what to do. And I'll be damned if I start all over as a farm hand."

Rural people are often ingenious at making an extra dollar. Even in the richest Corn Belt areas of Illinois and Iowa travelers off the beaten paths of the interstate highways can find country shops, many of

Springfield Treasure Is Sought

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Paul Cornish of Powell, Delaware County, is hot on the trail of buried treasure—in Springfield.

Cornish says he has information that a John Snyder of Springfield once buried copper pots filled with gold somewhere in the city. He thinks the treasure trove is in Snyder Park, donated to the city long ago by a family of the same name, the family of John Snyder.

Cornish began his hunt last year when he signed a contract with the city commission for permission to run test drillings at various spots around the park. All he found were metal refuse drums. The contract has since expired.

Undiscouraged, Cornish revealed last week he has new directions to the treasure, but they depend on locating a cliff or building that was called the "abutment" by early Springfieldites.

Cornish says he will appeal to local residents for help in locating the landmark.

But the amateur treasure hunter admits that even if he does find the pots of gold, his problems aren't over. "I'll still have the problem of obtaining a contract from the city," he conceded.

Winter Storm Pounds U.S. Midsection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A wide-ranging winter storm slapped the nation's midsection with snow and cold today and drove temperatures below zero deep into the Rockies and Plains.

Blizzard warnings were out in portions of Texas and Oklahoma and motorists were warned of hazardous driving in the region from the central Rockies to the southern Midwest, where the snow was mixed with or turned to freezing rain.

Snow extended from New Mexico to Michigan. Heavy-snow warnings were out in New Mexico.

Arctic cold sweeping in behind the storm dropped temperatures to zero or below as far south as the central Plains. The mercury settled to -25 at Butte, Mont., shortly after midnight.

Interaction between the cold and warm air blowing off the Gulf brought the threat of tornadoes to portions of Louisiana, Mississippi, east Texas and Arkansas.

Over an inch of rain soaked Huntsville, Ala.; Greenwood, Miss.; and Monroe, La. Generally fair and cold weather prevailed over the rest of the country.

U.N. Organization Puts Out Fish Book

ROME (AP) — Everything you wanted to know about fish—and probably a great deal more—is contained in a 469-page book of almost interminable statistics issued Sunday by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization.

The book, one of FAO's annual surveys of fisheries, discloses: The United States catch of marine bristle worms plummeted in 1970 to 700 tons from 800 tons the year before. And for the third year in a row, American fishermen failed to bring in any American sponges.

Dear Abby: You Need A Higher Stack Of Bibles

DEAR ABBY: Please, no names or cities on this. I am a 51-year-old widow. I'm considered attractive. I have no family responsibilities as my only child is married.

I have dated a number of eligible men, but there is one I care for above all the others. He's 57, but looks much younger. We've been dating for about six months, and I know he cares for me, too. He has been an absolute angel and a perfect gentleman. Last night he told me he loved me, but would not propose marriage because he had had surgery a few years ago which terminated his sex life.

I told him it didn't matter to me because I never placed much importance on sex anyway, which is the God's honest truth!

He said I was only being "kind", and in a few years I would feel "cheated". I swore to him on a stack of Bibles that I meant what I said. How

Springfield Treasure Is Sought

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Paul Cornish of Powell, Delaware County, is hot on the trail of buried treasure—in Springfield.

Cornish says he has information that a John Snyder of Springfield once buried copper pots filled with gold somewhere in the city. He thinks the treasure trove is in Snyder Park, donated to the city long ago by a family of the same name, the family of John Snyder.

Cornish began his hunt last year when he signed a contract with the city commission for permission to run test drillings at various spots around the park. All he found were metal refuse drums. The contract has since expired.

Undiscouraged, Cornish revealed last week he has new directions to the treasure, but they depend on locating a cliff or building that was called the "abutment" by early Springfieldites.

Cornish says he will appeal to local residents for help in locating the landmark.

But the amateur treasure hunter admits that even if he does find the pots of gold, his problems aren't over. "I'll still have the problem of obtaining another contract from the city," he conceded.

No Fatal Accidents On Ohio Turnpike

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — For the 17th straight year, there was no fatal accident on the Ohio Turnpike during the New Year holiday period despite a record number of vehicles on the toll road.

A spokesman for the turnpike commission said traffic reached a total of 219,300 vehicles from Dec. 30 through Jan. 2, compared to the previous high of 197,648 vehicles during the similar four-day period a year ago.

The new Fiat sedan-special and automatic, too.

This floor-mounted console torque converter with 3-speed gearset was especially designed for smaller engines. Takes the fatigue out of city driving or highway cruising. Fully automatic. Responds instantly to kickdown for full acceleration and down shifts manually for more effective braking. Cannot upshift accidentally.

An option for added extra comfort to the already supremely comfortable four-door family sedan from Fiat.

Young Farmers See Need To Either Expand Or Founder

Note: With determination and enough acreage, some family farmers are wrestling a living from the land. Others, caught in more marginal operations, rely on outside jobs to survive. In the second of a two-part series, AP Farm Writer Don Kendall takes a look at family farmers.

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
CORRECTIONVILLE, Iowa
(AP) — Part of the land Dave Holcomb works in this hilly country of western Iowa has been in his family for three generations and Holcomb is determined to keep and expand his spread.

Confronted like most farmers with a continuing squeeze from rising production costs and problems of record crops and depressed market prices, Holcomb offers a double-edged recipe for survival: growth and efficiency.

"The guy who's most efficient, the best manager, is the one who's staying. Maybe a

Winter Storm Pounds U.S. Midsection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A wide-ranging winter storm slapped the nation's midsection with snow and cold today and drove temperatures below zero deep into the Rockies and Plains.

Blizzard warnings were out in portions of Texas and Oklahoma and motorists were warned of hazardous driving in the region from the central Rockies to the southern Midwest, where the snow was mixed with or turned to freezing rain.

Snow extended from New Mexico to Michigan. Heavy-snow warnings were out in New Mexico.

Arctic cold sweeping in behind the storm dropped temperatures to zero or below as far south as the central Plains. The mercury settled to -25 at Butte, Mont., shortly after midnight.

Interaction between the cold and warm air blowing off the Gulf brought the threat of tornadoes to portions of Louisiana, Mississippi, east Texas and Arkansas.

Over an inch of rain soaked Huntsville, Ala.; Greenwood, Miss., and Monroe, La. Generally fair and cold weather prevailed over the rest of the country.

U.N. Organization Puts Out Fish Book

ROME (AP) — Everything you wanted to know about fish—and probably a great deal more—is contained in a 469-page book of almost interminable statistics issued Sunday by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization.

The book, one of FAO's annual surveys of fisheries, discloses:

The United States catch of marine bristle worms plummeted in 1970 to 700 tons from 800 tons the year before. And for the third year in a row, American fishermen failed to bring in any American sponges.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

guy was good 10 years ago, but if he hasn't kept up, he's going out," Holcomb said.

Plenty of family farmers like Holcomb haven't survived. There are fewer than 2.9 million farms in the United States, less than half the number 30 years ago. By 1980 another million will go out of business, swallowed up by larger operations, the Agriculture Department said recently.

Most of the larger family farmers interviewed by The Associated Press held views similar to Holcomb's about efficiency and growth and virtually all expressed determination to be in farming 10 years from now.

While it is difficult to categorize farmers, Holcomb belongs to a breed of intense, ambitious men who believe devotion to work on the land and good management plus the advantage of sound credit can overcome most obstacles.

Unlike the smaller, low-income farmer, Holcomb, working out plans for his moderate-size herd of 350 cattle, has fairly bright prospects.

He raised a bumper corn crop this year of more than 20,000 bushels, about five times his 1970 output, but even so will buy more corn for feed if the price is right.

Farmers who raise corn to sell as grain have been hit hard by lower prices this fall, down as much as 50 cents a bushel from a year ago when blight and drought shortened the crop.

At an average 95 cents a bushel, the experts say, farmers are not even getting expenses back.

If Holcomb and other cattle feeders can buy grain at the lower prices, beef production can be expected to jump substantially, to the delight of consumers.

But if cattle output soars too much, prices will drop and producers severely. A lot depends on grain exports, prospects for 1972 grain production and what the Nixon administration does in the next few months to help bolster grain prices.

The corn-cattle situation, with hogs thrown in for good measure, is a critical part of the current farm problem.

To make a go of things, Holcomb, in every sense a family farmer, employs no regular hired labor. Except for some help from a cousin for field work, he does all his own work with his own machinery. His wife and their three children live in a remodeled frame house on the farm.

One of the traits of farmers who seem to be making it despite the ills of their marketing and price system is a willingness, a drive, to grow larger and larger. Holcomb is no exception.

An ancestor operated the farm as an 80-acre unit for many years. When Dave was born the farm was 160 acres.

Today Holcomb, at 31 two decades younger than the average American farmer, operates 500 acres, most of it acquired by him or his late father since the 1950s.

One category of farmer with little hope to expand is the small, low-income farmer who gets very little of his annual income from the land. Most of it comes from jobs off the farm, performed by either him or his wife on a part-time basis.

Holcomb has no wish for that. Farming is his full-time occupation.

But Holcomb is young. A lot of farmers are getting old and will die on their farms. Others, including some whose rented land has been sold when an owner has died, must move on. That is happening to one farmer, a man in his late 50s, in central Illinois.

"I'm about eight years from Social Security," he said, asking not to be identified. "What do I do?"

The man did not know. He had worked a rented 200-acre farm for 20 years. But now the landlord was dead and the family was selling. Next spring the dispossessed renter—he knew of no other farm to rent—will sell his machinery, hogs, a few cattle and look for work.

"Maybe in Peoria, but I don't know what to do. And I'll be damned if I start all over as a farm hand."

Rural people are often ingenious at making an extra dollar. Even in the richest Corn Belt areas of Illinois and Iowa travelers off the beaten paths of the interstate highways can find country shops, many of them on farms, featuring a variety of services from hair styling to gunsmithing.

One reason small farmers have turned to town jobs, when available, is that they have excess time. Need, of course, is there, but when tractors replaced horses on a 160-acre farm many operators found they had idle hours and days.

Some, the more adventurous, saw quickly 15 or 20 years ago they needed more land to remain full-time farmers. Expansion soon became a necessity as prices for corn, wheat and livestock failed to keep pace with rising costs. Only by increasing output could they survive.

This is the way young men like Dave Holcomb see it. They have to keep getting better or they will sit still. They want better prices but, in the absence of them, must remain on the improvement treadmill.

Some, the more adventurous, saw quickly 15 or 20 years ago they needed more land to re-

Paying The Hard Way

Paying traffic fines in a medium other than cash could accomplish more than merely discharging the obligation of an errant motorist. At any rate, that is the hope behind an experimental project at Capital University in Columbus, O.

Students and staff members can pay campus traffic fines with a blood donation. Campus citations can be redeemed within one week with a pint of blood donated at a local Red Cross office; otherwise the fine will be collected.

Some motorists seem to have a penchant for picking up traffic citations which involve nothing more than the payment of a fine. Substituting a pint of blood or a few hours work on a community project might help instill a missing sense of responsibility.

The idea has possibilities far beyond the campus. But if the innovation were extended to many field, blood banks might soon be filled to overflowing and the population would be bled to the danger point.

Perhaps the traditional method of collecting from errant motorists should be continued for a while longer.

Celebration Menaced

Ten years have elapsed since serious mention was first made of plans to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday in 1976. Since then, there have been various committees, proposals, plans and almost continuous controversy.

Just when it seemed as if plans were really jelling for an international exhibition to be held in Philadelphia, with an acceptable site practically agreed upon, a new feud has broken out. Philadelphia's new mayor and the committee making plans blame each other. What it seems to revolve around is that some people who live there object to the site.

This is asinine, but it is delaying the go-ahead signal. Original controversy involved selection of a city to host the celebration, with half a dozen or more contenders, some obviously entered merely for the publicity.

But someone can always be found who will object to the site, if merely to run up the price of real estate. If all other obstacles have been eliminated, objections to the site selected should not prove an insurmountable roadblock.

Upward And Onward

On days when wage and price control boards in Washington aren't busily engaged in raising wages or prices, what do they do? Some wag can be heard asking, what days?

Inflation hasn't been slowed by the controllers — it has merely been made official. But it is the appearance of action to control inflation that has been added.

When a control panel announces a "ceiling" of 5½ per cent on wage increases, that immediately becomes a floor. All those who have not received a 5 per cent boost in pay think they have been cheated out of something they were promised.

As for prices, they continue to go up, don't they?

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A final review of the independent economic forecasts that have proliferated since fall shows a consensus for tremendous gains during 1972, on the order of $100 billion in growth.

From reading the words you might not guess that this is the outlook. Economic forecasting to some extent a game of chance.

Forecasters are hedging their words if not the figures. Political or monetary problems might confuse everything. Continued unemployment might sour the people. Controls might depress.

Moreover, a sense of propriety causes the wording to be somewhat at variance with the figures being offered. Now everyone will share in the advance—unemployment is seen remaining above 4.5 per cent—so the word "boom" is inappropriate.

Perhaps as daring as any, therefore, is the forecast by Argus Research, upon whom much of the investment community relies heavily. This is the message delivered to Argus subscribers on New Year's Eve: "For the first time since 196, the conventional wish for a prosperous new year has a strong chance of coming true in 1972."

At the same time, clients of Lionel D. Edie, economic consultants, were told that "chances of 1972 being an altogether favorable business year are high."

Rinfret-Boston Associates summed up its many forecasts in four words, "The emphasis is positive," and advised industrialists to learn from past experience and not be caught short-handed or without financing.

Specifically, R-B advise them to cultivate multiple credit sources so as to have the funds with which to expand, and to study their labor supply in order to assure themselves of help when needed.

But isn't there plenty of labor available? "Many areas of the U.S. do have material unemployment," Rinfret says, "but on investigation the unemployed frequently prove to be either unemployable or unavailable."

There were few exceptions to the consensus. Eliot Janeway smiled and wished everyone a Merry Christmas before forecasting. His new year forecast: "I am lowering my sights on the U.S. economy—for the second time this year."

Janeway says he is well aware "that I am entering a seemingly impractical and certainly lonely dissent to the overwhelming majority of sophisticated financial opinion..." he is aware too that a lonely position draws the spotlight.

Based largely on the outlook for a big advance in 1972, the money advisers are confident that a fully invested position is the smart one.

Why should we be interested in what these men say? Haven't they been wrong before?

Of course they have, although some of them have areas of expertise in which they are often right. What is important about their forecasts and advice is that they are listened to, often in very high circles, and often acted upon. Their opinions are, therefore, as important as some facts.

Forecasts sometimes are self-fulfilling. For 1972 they say Happy New Year."

Women Replace Costly Machines

LONDON (AP) — The British general post office declared today that $50,000 worth of machines were a failure because people are better.

Twenty machines were designed to cope with 200 million telephone calls a year from customers calling information to ask for telephone numbers.

They were given a year's trial and failed to cope with the problem. Officials said the old-fashioned operators were far more efficient.

Ben Vaughan, chief telecommunications expert, said "The girls were quicker at finding the numbers."

WEDNESDAY'S HOROSCOPE
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime brings a good opportunity to find out from an influential man what he can do to help you get ahead. Health treatments can be excellent for you. The evening is no time to take any chances. Avoid speaking your mind or opposition develops.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You now have to use an unusual system to get those problems you have handled well. Show co-worker that you have real talent. Gain full cooperation. Relax tonight with mate.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Once important work is done, plan recreations, and then carry through with flying colors. Make your life as ideal as you can through honest effort. Show more devotion to mate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Stop worrying about the past at home. Concentrate on the future, which can be as fine as you can envision. Eliminate tensions and carry through in a positive fashion. Relax tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study brochures, and magazines that will give you the data you need at this time. Cooperate with associates in deals that mean much to them. You can also benefit.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have many fine new ideas you can start working on and thereby increase your abundance. Listen to what a clever business person has to suggest. Follow through. Be wise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show appreciation for associates you can trust, especially when you are having rough sledding. Attend a party later that will bring you pleasure and lift your spirit. Dress tastefully.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try to gain the goodwill of an adviser who can be most helpful to you right now and gain the support you need. Obtain the information you need and then go out to fun places with friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A good friend can give you the ideas you need right now for your social advancement. Apply yourself consistently to the tasks at hand and get right results. Avoid one who bickers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can get a civic matter rolling along nicely now by thinking and acting intelligently. Try not to fly off the handle with anyone at home. Show that you are a good citizen.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan some time to get to new places and confer with persons whose background is not similar to yours. A good day to plan a trip for the future. Count the cost well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) This is one day when you can easily make the collections and payments necessary for your well-being. Show true devotion to your mate and get right results. Show that you are loyal.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Long conversations with partners bring the right understanding now that you desire as well as the future harmony you want. Later, attend the social. Think constructively.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people who understands duty and will wisely carry through with whatever tasks are assigned, provided you teach early to look into the motives behind the aims to be reached. Direct the education along lines of professions that require much attention to detail. Discipline here must be the gentle, intelligent kind. Teach to worship early.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, Jan. 4, the fourth day of 1972. There are 361 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1948, Burma became an independent republic.

On this date—In 1642, the mathematician who discovered the law of gravity, Sir Isaac Newton, was born in Lincolnshire, England.

In 1790, George Washington delivered the first annual presidential message.

In 1896, Utah was admitted to the Union as the 45th state.

In 1921, the Nazis ordered military training for the children of Germany.

In 1948, Gen. Douglas MacArthur invited 30 leading American educators to help set up a democratic school system in Japan.

In 1964, Pope Paul VI arrived in Jerusalem to begin a tour of the Holy Land.

Ten years ago: The United States and South Vietnam announced a broad economic and social program to raise South Vietnamese living standards.

Five years ago: British speedboat racer Donald Campbell was killed when his jet-powered boat flipped over and sank in Lake Coniston in England.

One year ago: Egypt acknowledged that Russian soldiers were manning missile sites in Egypt and six had been killed in an Israeli air raid.

Rhodesian Plan Nixed

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The African National Council rejected Monday the terms for a British-Rhodesian settlement calling them a legalization of the white-minority government's unilateral declaration of independence from Britain in 1965.

The council—the ANC—considers the declaration to be treason.

The terms are to be tested for their acceptability by a British mission headed by Lord Pearce beginning next week.

The chairman of the council, Methodist Bishop Abel T. Muzorewa, announced the rejection of the terms at a news conference.

In a statement, Bishop Muzorewa said the Africans had always demanded independence before majority rule.

Bridge District Starts Bus Line

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Golden Gate Bridge went into the mass transit business Monday to relieve its own congestion.

The Golden Gate Bridge, District began running 152 new air-conditioned buses, purchased for nearly $10 million, between San Francisco and two suburban counties in a commuter service that extends 60 miles to the north.

The district is taking over runs operated by Greyhound for 31 years.

Taiwan Intentions

By JEFFERY HART

At the time of President Nixon's move into Cambodia, Dartmouth College had a sort of collective nervous breakdown. Classes were suspended for a while. People walked around in a daze, making dire predictions, and there was a feeling of apocalypse in the air. An ordinarily sober colleague informed me that President Nixon was literally insane. One of the football quarterbacks, no less, rushed around making speeches about the rottenness of the system. Many students dropped out of school through sheer dismay.

In retrospect, by the autumn of 1970, all this seemed ridiculous, and the question therefore became: why had the reaction been so disproportionate, so unrealistic?

Some people were inclined to criticize the new college president, John Kemeny, for suspending classes, but this was clearly unfair. The atmosphere on campus at the time was such that violence could not have been ruled out. Better to suspend classes than see the library burned or the physics building bombed. The supercharged atmosphere, furthermore, was hardly the new president's fault. It was part of a nationwide campus malaise.

At Dartmouth, a group of thoughtful students, meditating on the problem, concluded that the problem was fundamentally an intellectual one and demanded an intellectual answer.

Dartmouth is liberal in the way that most campuses are liberal. It is nowhere nearly so left-oriented as Columbia or Berkeley. Nevertheless, liberalism is the given. Most people on campus simply assume that no moral or political case exists for the Vietnamese war. Reason and virtue are understood to reside in the liberal wing of the Democratic Party. In 1968, a campus address by George Wallace precipitated a riot. The campus newspaper soberly predicted that Nixon's election meant, literally, global catastrophe. Visiting speakers represent, for the most part, a spectrum of opinion stretching all the way from McGovern to McCloskey. Now and then a black revolutionary appears to provide some high-octane thrills.

Small wonder, therefore, that having imbibed all these assumptions, community feeling was prepared to be terrorized and thrown completely off balance by even so modest a move as sending a few troops into Cambodia.

This analysis issued in a logical prescription. Since the loony reaction to Cambodia was traceable to the prevailing world view, and that world view derived from the rather narrow range of opinion available on campus, why not open things up a bit, why not let in the real world for a change?

These students, therefore, formed the Dartmouth Committee for Intellectual Alternatives. From alumni sources they raised a little capital, and beginning with the new term they are bringing to the campus a series of speakers representing views, and indeed knowledge, not generally available on campus. In January, for example, William Schneider is coming. Formerly of the Hudson Institute, he is an expert on strategic matters, and now a principal aide to Sen. James Buckley. He may lead some students to think the unthinkable: i.e., that national defense is, in fact, a vital matter. Other speakers, all highly qualified, are in the offing; and, in the spring, as a special treat, Bill Buckley will appear. These Dartmouth students just sit around gripping about. They are attempting to do something about it.

BOMBING TARGETS — Diplomatic sources disclose that U.S. bombing strikes extended to the 20th parallel, within 80 miles of Hanoi, including the entire North Vietnamese radar system up to that point.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My mother has an ulcer of the skin of her leg. It started as a scratch and just won't heal.

Can you tell me what causes this, and how it can be cured?

Mrs. G.O.W., Va.
Dear Mrs. W.: An ulcer is an open break of the skin or the mucous membrane of the body.

There are many reasons why ulcers of the legs and feet do not heal easily, and most important being some problem with the blood circulation. An ulcer such as you describe can result from injury, burns and sometimes can be associated with long-neglected varicose veins.

A number of medical conditions like diabetes can keep an ulcer of the leg from healing properly.

Tobacco plays an important role in keeping these ulcers from healing because of its tendency to further impair the blood circulation.

Treatment can be started only if the exact cause is known. Your mother should be thoroughly examined to find the basic reason for the continuation of an unhealed ulcer of the leg.

With elevation of the leg, antibiotics and the physician's suggestions for increasing the blood supply, the ulcer usually heals.

Neglected ulcers of the leg can be complicated with infection, and far too often are responsible for long-term incapacitation.

Is there any way that we can help lower the pitch of our 14-year-old son's voice?

Mr. and Mrs. D.S., Pa.
Dear Mr. and Mrs. S.: The gradual change from the high-pitched to the masculine voice normally starts to take place at the age of 12 or 13.

Occasionally, the high-pitched voice of a pre-adolescent persists even into adulthood.

Sometimes a deficiency of hormones is the cause. When this can be proven, treatment with hormones can be effective.

In cases where there is no hormone deficiency, a well-trained speech therapist can help lower the pitch by the use of specially designed exercise.

It is wise to seek such an opinion and treatment, to spare your son the embarrassment he may feel because his speech is different from that of his friends.

Is it possible to have a fracture of the ribs without any symptoms or severe pain?

Mrs. W.N., Maine
Dear Mrs. N.: It is surprising how often fractures of the ribs are found by routine X-ray examination in people who have had no symptoms.

It is wise, therefore, to have X-rays immediately after every injury to the chest wall.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government cram course on filling out income tax forms goes on sale this month at 15,000 post offices.

The Postal Service said the booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," will cost 75 cents a copy and will be on sale at first and second class post offices. It includes a sample Form 1040 with explanations for filling in each line.

Another 75-cent publication, "Tax Guide for Small Business," will be sold at a limited number of first class post offices.

Both booklets were prepared by the Internal Revenue Service.

Nixon Admired

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Gallup Poll says for the third year in a row President Nixon is No. 1 on the list of men most admired by the American public.

A spokesman for Gallup said Sunday the top five also include evangelist Billy Graham; Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.; former President Lyndon B. Johnson; and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.

Following in the top 10 are Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, consumer advocate Ralph Nader, Pope Paul VI, comedian Bob Hope and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

Paying The Hard Way

Paying traffic fines in a medium other than cash could accomplish more than merely discharging the obligation of an errant motorist. At any rate, that is the hope behind an experimental project at Capital University in Columbus, O.

Students and staff members can pay campus traffic fines with a blood donation. Campus citations can be redeemed within one week with a pint of blood donated at a local Red Cross office; otherwise the fine will be collected.

Some motorists seem to have a penchant for picking up traffic citations which involve nothing more than the payment of a fine. Substituting a pint of blood or a few hours work on a community project might help instill a missing sense of responsibility.

The idea has possibilities far beyond the campus. But if the innovation were extended to many fields, blood banks might soon be filled to overflowing and the population would be bled to the danger point.

Perhaps the traditional method of collecting from errant motorists should be continued for a while longer.

Celebration Menaced

Ten years have elapsed since serious mention was first made of plans to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday in 1976. Since then, there have been various committees, proposals, plans and almost continuous controversy.

Just when it seemed as if plans were really jelling for an international exhibition to be held in Philadelphia, with an acceptable site practically agreed upon, a new feud has broken out. Philadelphia's new mayor and the committee making plans blame each other. What it seems to revolve around is that some people who live there object to the site.

This is asinine, but it is delaying the go-ahead signal. Original controversy involved selection of a city to host the celebration, with half a dozen or more contenders, some obviously entered merely for the publicity.

But someone can always be found who will object to the site, if merely to run up the price of real estate. If all other obstacles have been eliminated, objections to the site selected should not prove an insurmountable roadblock.

Upward And Onward

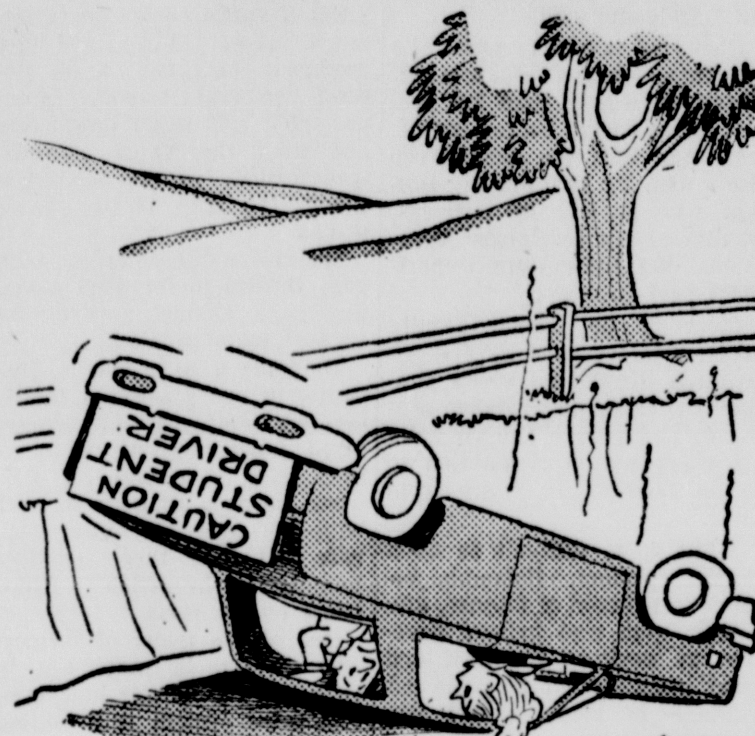

On days when wage and price control boards in Washington aren't busily engaged in raising wages or prices, what do they do? Some wag can be heard asking, what days?

Inflation hasn't been slowed by the controllers — it has merely been made official. But it is the appearance of action to control inflation that has been added.

When a control panel announces a "ceiling" of 5½ per cent on wage increases, that immediately becomes a floor. All those who have not received a 5 per cent boost in pay think they have been cheated out of something they were promised.

As for prices, they continue to go up, don't they?

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, Jan. 4, the fourth day of 1972. There are 361 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1948, Burma became an independent republic.

On this date—In 1642, the mathematician who discovered the law of gravity, Sir Isaac Newton, was born in Lincolnshire, England.

In 1790, George Washington delivered the first annual presidential message.

In 1896, Utah was admitted to the Union as the 45th state.

In 1921, the Nazis ordered military training for the children of Germany.

In 1946, Gen. Douglas MacArthur invited 39 leading American educators to help set up a democratic school system in Japan.

In 1964, Pope Paul VI arrived in Jerusalem to begin a tour of the Holy Land.

Ten years ago: the United States and South Vietnam announced a broad economic and social program to raise South Vietnamese living standards.

Five years ago: British speedboat racer Donald Campbell was killed when his jet-powered boat flipped over and sank in Lake Coniston in England.

One year ago: Egypt acknowledged that Russian soldiers were manning missile sites in Egypt and six had been killed in an Israeli air raid.

Rhodesian Plan Nixed

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The African National Council rejected Monday the terms for a British-Rhodesian settlement calling them a legalization of the white-minority government's unilateral declaration of independence from Britain in 1965.

The council—the ANC—considers the declaration to be treason.

The terms are to be tested for their acceptability by a British mission headed by Lord Pearce beginning next week.

The chairman of the council, Methodist Bishop Abel T. Muzorewa, announced the rejection of the terms at a news conference.

In a statement, Bishop Muzorewa said the Africans had always demanded independence before majority rule.

Bridge District Starts Bus Line

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Golden Gate Bridge went into the mass transit business Monday to relieve its own congestion.

The Golden Gate Bridge, District began running 152 new air-conditioned buses, purchased for nearly $10 million, between San Francisco and two suburban counties in a commuter service that extends 60 miles to the north.

The district is taking over runs operated by Greyhound for 31 years.

Taiwan Intentions

By JEFFERY HART

At the time of President Nixon's move into Cambodia, Dartmouth College had a sort of collective nervous breakdown. Classes were suspended for a while. People walked around in a daze, making dire predictions, and there was a feeling of apocalypse in the air. An ordinarily sober colleague informed me that President Nixon was literally insane. One of the football quarterbacks, no less, rushed around making speeches about the rottenness of the system. Many students dropped out of school through sheer dismay.

In retrospect, by the autumn of 1970, all this seemed ridiculous, and the question therefore became: why had the reaction been so disproportionate, so unrealistic?

Some people were inclined to criticize the new college president, John Kemeny, for suspending classes, but this was clearly unfair. The atmosphere on campus at the time was such that violence could not have been ruled out. Better to suspend classes than see the library burned or the physics building bombed. The supercharged atmosphere, furthermore, was hardly the new president's fault. It was part of a nationwide campus malaise.

At Dartmouth, a group of thoughtful students, meditating on the problem, concluded that the problem was fundamentally an intellectual one and demanded an intellectual answer.

Dartmouth is liberal in the way that most campuses are liberal. It is nowhere nearly so left-oriented as Columbia or Berkeley. Nevertheless, liberalism is the given. Most people on campus simply assume that no moral or political case exists for the Vietnamese War. Reason and virtue are understood to reside in the liberal wing of the Democratic Party. In 1968, a campus address by George Wallace precipitated a riot. The campus newspaper soberly predicted that Nixon's election meant, literally, global catastrophe. Visiting speakers represent, for the most part, a spectrum of opinion stretching all the way from McGovern to McCloskey. Now and then a black revolutionary appears to provide some high-octane thrills.

Small wonder, therefore, that having imbibed all these assumptions, community feeling was prepared to be terrorized and thrown completely off balance by even so modest a move as sending a few troops into Cambodia.

This analysis issued in a logical prescription. Since the loony reaction to Cambodia was traceable to the prevailing world view, and that world view derived from the rather narrow range of opinion available on campus, why not open things up a bit, why not let in the real world for a change?

These students, therefore, formed the Dartmouth Committee for Intellectual Alternatives. From alumni sources they raised a little capital, and beginning with the new term they are bringing to the campus a series of speakers representing views, and indeed knowledge, not generally available on campus. In January, for example, William Schneider is coming. Formerly of the Hudson Institute, he is an expert on strategic matters, and now a principal aide to Sen. James Buckley. He may lead some students to think the unthinkable: i.e., that national defense is, in fact, a vital matter. Other speakers, all highly qualified, are in the offing; and, in the spring, as a special treat, Bill Buckley will appear. These Dartmouth students just sit around gripping about. They are attempting to do something and Dartmouth alumni did not thing about it.

BOMBING TARGETS — Diplomatic sources disclose that U.S. bombing strikes extended to the 20th parallel, within 80 miles of Hanoi, including the entire North Vietnamese radar system up to that point.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My mother has an ulcer of the skin of her leg. It started as a scratch and just won't heal.

Can you tell me what causes this, and how it can be cured?

Mrs. G.O.W., Va.
Dear Mrs. W.: An ulcer is an open break of the skin or the mucous membrane of the body.

There are many reasons why ulcers of the legs and feet do not heal easily, and most important being some problem with the blood circulation. An ulcer such as you describe can result from injury, burns and sometimes can be associated with long-neglected varicose veins.

A number of medical conditions like diabetes can keep an ulcer of the leg from healing properly.

Tobacco plays an important role in keeping these ulcers from healing because of its tendency to further impair the blood circulation.

Treatment can be started only if the exact cause is known. Your mother should be thoroughly examined to find the basic reason for the continuation of an unhealed ulcer of the leg.

With elevation of the leg, antibiotics and the physician's suggestions for increasing the blood supply, the ulcer usually heals.

Neglected ulcers of the leg can be complicated with infection, and far too often are responsible for long-term incapacitation.

Is there any way that we can help lower the pitch of our 14-year-old son's voice?

Mr. and Mrs. D.S., Pa.
Dear Mr. and Mrs. S.: The gradual change from the high-pitched to the masculine voice normally starts to take place at the age of 12 or 13.

Occasionally, the high-pitched voice of a pre-adolescent persists even into adulthood.

Sometimes a deficiency of hormones is the cause. When this can be proven, treatment with hormones can be effective.

In cases where there is no hormone deficiency, a well-trained speech therapist can help lower the pitch by the use of specially designed exercise.

It is wise to seek such an opinion and treatment, to spare your son the embarrassment he may feel because his speech is different from that of his friends.

Is it possible to have a fracture of the ribs without any symptoms or severe pain?

Mrs. W. N., Maine
Dear Mrs. N.: It is surprising how often fractures of the ribs are found by routine X-ray examination in people who have had no symptoms.

It is wise, therefore, to have X-rays immediately after every injury to the chest wall.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A final review of the independent economic forecasts that have proliferated since fall shows a consensus for tremendous gains during 1972, on the order of $100 billion in growth.

From reading the words you might not guess that this is the outlook. Economic forecasting to some extent a game of chance.

Forecasters are hedging their words if not the figures. Political or monetary problems might confuse everything. Continued unemployment might sour the people. Controls might depress.

Moreover, a sense of propriety causes the wording to be somewhat at variance with the figures being offered. Now everyone will share in the advance—unemployment is seen remaining above 4.5 per cent—so the word "boom" is inappropriate.

Perhaps as daring as any, therefore, is the forecast by Argus Research, upon whom much of the investment community relies heavily. This is

Women Replace Costly Machines

LONDON (AP) — The British general post office declared today that $50,000 worth of machines were a failure because people are better.

Twenty machines were designed to cope with 200 million telephone calls a year from customers calling information to ask for telephone numbers.

They were given a year's trial and failed to cope with the problem. Officials said the old-fashioned operators were far more efficient.

Ben Vaughan, chief telecommunications expert, said "The girls were quicker at finding the numbers."

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Doris Day Show" on CBS has been radically remodeled annually for four years now and "they"—as Miss Day refers to the changes—have finally gotten TV's Doris Martin into a character identical to those the actress played in all those light film comedies. Miss Day now plays a bachelor girl who is a star reporter on a San Francisco-based magazine. She is bright, optimistic, winsome and even occasionally funny—in spite of the show's scripts.

A few weeks ago, Doris was a happy kidnap victim in some revolutionary Balkan state. This Monday night she was pretending to be a nurse in order to worm out of a stricken billionaire some story about economics.

Her boss this season, played by John Dehner, is a boisterous tyrant with a temper and belov almost equally that of Gale Gordon, Lucy's boss on the preceding program. Miss Day's comedy style is quieter and more effective—or would be if she had better material.

"Here's Lucy" had Helen Hayes as a guest star. The distinguished actress seemed miscast as a little old lady staying with Lucille Ball as a house guest for a week. There was some far-fetched nonsense about a seance, mostly to give Lucy and Gale a chance to dress up as the ghosts of Josephine and Napoleon.

In spite of the talents of Miss Hayes and Miss Ball, the half hour was definitely lesser Lucy.

Dean Martin is now officially among television's superstars. He has his own pro-am golf tournament, the Dean Martin Tucson Open, which NBC will televise the weekend of Jan. 22.

Martin joins the select company that includes Ben Crosby, Bob Hope, Glen Campbell, Andy Williams, Danny Thomas and Jackie Gleason. Each sponsors a charity benefit tournament.

The device of naming a tournament for a well-known star works well for all concerned. The big star is honored and gives the tournament some clout in persuading other celebrities to play. The presence of celebrities attracts television coverage and larger galleries.

WILLIAM J. BRESLER

William J. Bresler of Circleville Realty, Circleville, was recently honored by being appointed to the Agency Advisory Board of the Lightning Rod Mutual Insurance Company, a member of the Western Reserve Group, Wooster.

The 12-man Advisory Board was formed in 1969 with the purpose of offering a direct line of communication between agency representatives and Company officials. The Board will also act as a "sounding board" for the agency force and the policyholders whom they represent.

T. M. Lintala, Vice President, and Chairman of the 1971 meeting started with the introduction of new members and gave a preview of coming events. K. G. Rhode, President, discussed "Lightning Rod Mutual's 1971 Progress" and "Legislation Affecting Policyholders, Agencies and Companies."

Other topics discussed included "No Fault Auto Plans," "The New Mobile Homeowners Policy Program," "Umbrella Coverage" and the "Fair Credit Act" by Robert Dickason, Vice President. Underwriting, T. H. Lintala discussed "Mass-Account Merchandising" and conducted the usual "Round Table Brainstorming Session."

Appreciation Awards were given to parting members. The meeting and dinner took place at the College of Wooster Inn. K. G. Rhode, President, considered the meeting to be extremely informative and successful. Any new thoughts, ideas or suggestions will be given immediate consideration.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Cleveland attorney Richard Kay said Monday he was running for President on the American Independent Party ticket "to make sure that the unjustified prosecution of (Lt. William) Calley is not lost as a major campaign issue in 1972."

Kay, who ran for the U.S. Senate in Ohio last year, was a defense attorney for Calley in his trial for murder in the My Lai massacre. Calley was sentenced to life in prison. That sentence was later reduced to 20 years and could be further shortened by President Nixon.

"If President Nixon doesn't pardon William Calley, I don't believe he'll be reelected in 1972," Kay said in a news conference here.

Majibur Rahman Released By Pakistani President

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto announced Monday the release of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, Radio Pakistan announced.

Sheikh Mujib was the dominant political leader of East Pakistan before his arrest in March. Rebels there have proclaimed him president of Bangladesh.

The radio said Bhutto made the announcement of his release at a mammoth public rally in Karachi where the crowd roared its approval after he asked for it.

"You have relieved me as a great burden," the radio said Bhutto replied.

The release of Mujib could pave the way for a settlement between India and Pakistan following their two-week war last month.

Mujib is the leader of the Awami League, now in power in an independent Bangladesh.

Bhutto, said that "world opinion also favored Sheikh Mujib's release."

"I hope India will similarly honor world opinion and leave occupied Pakistani territory," Bhutto added, according to the radio.

The radio did not say when Mujib would leave West Pakistan or if he had already left.

Sheikh Mujib was jailed on treason charges by Gen. Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan, then the president, in the March crackdown on Mujib's East Pakistani autonomy movement.

It was Mujib's insistence on autonomy for Pakistan's Eastern province, which had 75 million of Pakistan's 130 million people, that fouled Yahya's plans for a constitutional assembly last year.

Running on Mujib's six-point autonomy program, the Awami League won 136 of East Pakistan's 138 National Assembly seats in the 1970 election. Bhutto's National People's party won a majority in the West but fell far short of a nationwide majority.

With Mujib refusing to budge on autonomy or to accept the president's demands, Yahya postponed the scheduled opening of the assembly.

Mujib then began the independence movement, which the Pakistani army attempted to put down until the intervention of India and the 14-day war.

Officials Feel Bombing Escalation Not Worthwhile

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Weighed against the military achievements, there seems to be growing doubt among Americans here that the decision to escalate the air war in Indochina was worth the loss of 13 crewmen and 10 American planes in three weeks.

Some wonder if the United States handed North Vietnam a propaganda victory at the expense of American prisoners of war—new and old. They also speculate that the massive attacks against North Vietnam last week may have toughened Hanoi's stand on releasing even a few prisoners of war.

Quick to play on the sensitivity of the American public to the POW issue, Hanoi made a departure by producing four newly captured airmen at a news conference and broadcasting statements of three others captured during the last three weeks of December.

President Nixon says he had no choice but to order the bombing of North Vietnam for five days last week because of stepped-up North Vietnamese infiltration efforts, assaults on U.S. reconnaissance planes, and the shelling of Saigon.

But military sources in Saigon say they have not detected stepped-up infiltration of men and supplies so far.

One U.S. military source says that over-all infiltration of men and supplies so far this year is about the same as last year and if anything is slightly less. A senior U.S. diplomatic source said the same thing a month ago.

Nixon says the five days of bombing were "very, very effective." However, there is evidence that the raids fell short of their objectives because of low cloud cover that hampered pinpoint bombing. Sources here say the poor weather is continuing and U.S. reconnaissance planes have been unable to make an accurate assessment. Some Navy pilots who participated in the bombing campaign say it has done little to suppress North Vietnam's anti-aircraft defenses.

No Tax Loss Seen For School Districts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State School Supt. Martin Essex reiterated Monday that school districts will not lose local property tax receipts as a result of the property tax roll-back and homestead exemption enacted by the legislature.

The legislation provides, Essex said, that the reductions be replaced by the state with funds from the new state income tax.

"While citizens of our state will be paying lower property taxes," Essex said, "neither Ohio schools nor local governments will have any less funds to provide local services."

WILLIAM J. BRESLER

William J. Bresler of Circleville Realty, Circleville, was recently honored by being appointed to the Agency Advisory Board of the Lightning Rod Mutual Insurance Company, a member of the Western Reserve Group, Wooster.

The 12-man Advisory Board was formed in 1969 with the purpose of offering a direct line of communication between agency representatives and Company officials. The Board will also act as a "sounding board" for the agency force and the policyholders whom they represent.

T. M. Lintala, Vice President, and Chairman of the 1971 meeting started with the introduction of new members and gave a preview of coming events. K. G. Rhode, President, discussed "Lightning Rod Mutual's 1971 Progress" and "Legislation Affecting Policyholders, Agencies and Companies."

Other topics discussed included "No Fault Auto Plans," "The New Mobile Homeowners Policy Program," "Umbrella Coverage" and the "Fair Credit Act" by Robert Dickason, Vice President, Underwriting. T. H. Lintala discussed "Mass-Account Merchandising" and conducted the usual "Round Table Brainstorming Session."

Appreciation Awards were given to parting members. The meeting and dinner took place at the College of Wooster Inn. K. G. Rhode, President, considered the meeting to be extremely informative and successful. Any new thoughts, ideas or suggestions will be given immediate consideration.

Kay's Campaign Hinges On Calley

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Cleveland attorney Richard Kay said Monday he was running for President on the American Independent Party ticket "to make sure that the unjustified prosecution of (Lt. William) Calley is not lost as a major campaign issue in 1972."

Kay, who ran for the U.S. Senate in Ohio last year, was a defense attorney for Calley in his trial for murder in the My Lai massacre. Calley was sentenced to life in prison. That sentence was later reduced to 20 years and could be further shortened by President Nixon.

"If President Nixon doesn't pardon William Calley, I don't believe he'll be reelected in 1972," Kay said in a news conference here.

Thomas Van Meter To Replace Leedy

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Thomas A. Van Meter, 28, assistant registrar of Ashland College, has been selected to replace Sen. James K. Leedy, R-19 Wooster, in the 199th General Assembly.

Majibur Rahman Released By Pakistani President

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto announced Monday the release of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, Radio Pakistan announced.

Sheikh Mujib was the dominant political leader of East Pakistan before his arrest in March. Rebels there have proclaimed him president of Bangladesh.

The radio said Bhutto made the announcement of his release at a mammoth public rally in Karachi where the crowd roared its approval after he asked for it.

"You have relieved me as a great burden," the radio said Bhutto replied.

The release of Mujib could pave the way for a settlement between India and Pakistan following their two-week war last month.

Mujib is the leader of the Awami League, now in power in an independent Bangladesh.

Bhutto, said that "world opinion also favored Sheikh Mujib's release."

"I hope India will similarly honor world opinion and leave occupied Pakistani territory," Bhutto added, according to the radio.

The radio did not say when Mujib would leave West Pakistan or if he had already left.

Sheikh Mujib was jailed on treason charges by Gen. Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan, then the president, in the March crackdown on Mujib's East Pakistani autonomy movement.

It was Mujib's insistence on autonomy for Pakistan's Eastern province, which had 75 million of Pakistan's 130 million people, that fouled Yahya's plans for a constitutional assembly last year.

Running on Mujib's six-point autonomy program, the Awami League won 136 of East Pakistan's 138 National Assembly seats in the 1970 election. Bhutto's National People's party won a majority in the West but fell far short of a nationwide majority.

With Mujib refusing to budge on autonomy or to accept the president's demands, Yahya postponed the scheduled opening of the assembly.

Mujib then began the independence movement, which the Pakistani army attempted to put down until the intervention of India and the 14-day war.

Officials Feel Bombing Escalation Not Worthwhile

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Weighed against the military achievements, there seems to be growing doubt among Americans here that the decision to escalate the air war in Indochina was worth the loss of 13 crewmen and 10 American planes in three weeks.

Some wonder if the United States handed North Vietnam a propaganda victory at the expense of American prisoners of war—new and old. They also speculate that the massive attacks against North Vietnam last week may have toughened Hanoi's stand on releasing even a few prisoners of war.

Quick to play on the sensitivity of the American public to the POW issue, Hanoi made a departure by producing four newly captured airmen at a news conference and broadcasting statements of three others captured during the last three weeks of December.

President Nixon says he had no choice but to order the bombing of North Vietnam for five days last week because of stepped-up North Vietnamese infiltration efforts, assaults on U.S. reconnaissance planes, and the shelling of Saigon.

But military sources in Saigon say they have not detected stepped-up infiltration of men and supplies so far.

One U.S. military source says that over-all infiltration of men and supplies so far this year is about the same as last year and if anything is slightly less. A senior U.S. diplomatic source said the same thing a month ago.

Nixon says the five days of bombing were "very, very effective." However, there is evidence that the raids fell short of their objectives because of low cloud cover that hampered pinpoint bombing. Sources here say the poor weather is continuing and U.S. reconnaissance planes have been unable to make an accurate assessment. Some Navy pilots who participated in the bombing campaign say it has done little to suppress North Vietnam's anti-aircraft defenses.

No Tax Loss Seen For School Districts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State School Supt. Martin Essex reiterated Monday that school districts will not lose local property tax receipts as a result of the property tax rollback and homestead exemption enacted by the legislature.

The legislation provides, Essex said, that the reductions be replaced by the state with funds from the new state income tax.

"While citizens of our state will be paying lower property taxes," Essex said, "neither Ohio schools nor local governments will have any less funds to provide local services."

London has 5,530 acres of major parks.

Liberians Show Affection For America's First Lady

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Billy Graham borrowed a decoration and white vest to wear and danced the cha cha. President William Tolbert came late and stayed late. And Pat Nixon got Liberia's highest decoration at Tolbert's gala inaugural ball Monday night.

There was a grand march, with all the distinguished guests promenading. Then dancing until after midnight to the music of three bands, including one from Grambling College in Louisiana.

The featured vocalist was Maitta Fahn Bulleh, whose father was released from prison recently by President Tolbert. He had been convicted of attempting to assassinate Tolbert's predecessor, the late President William Tubman.

"That was thanks for my dad," she said after singing for Tolbert.

The festivities capped Tolbert's colorful inauguration day.

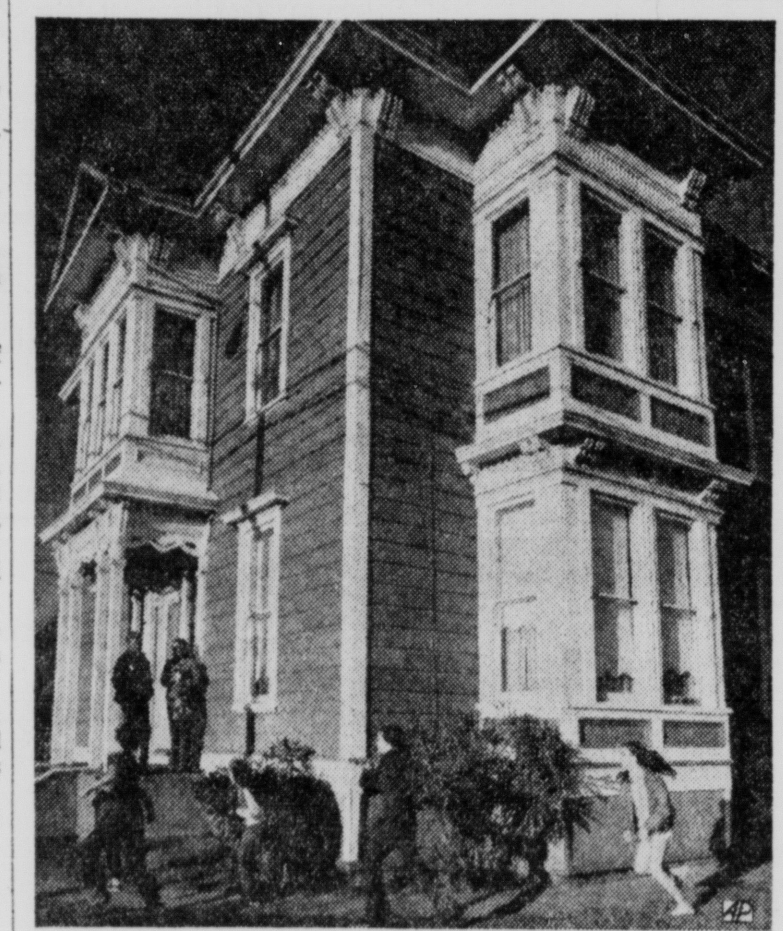

There was one sad note, however. The president didn't dance because one of his eight children died three weeks ago.

Mrs. Nixon didn't dance either.

Tolbert honored the American First Lady with the Grand Cordon of the Most Venerable Order of Knighthood of the Pioneers of the Republic of Liberia.

In an elaborate citation to Thelma Catherine Patricia Nixon, he said that by triumphing over adversity in her early life, she "became a living symbol of what the American dream can be."

He called her a woman of "courage, strength of character and fortitude of spirit" who had excelled in everything she set her hand to.

TENT TO THIS — Eugene and Audrey Nichols watch their children romp about their new house in National City, Calif. The family had lived in a tent for four months because Nichols couldn't find a job. The owner of a vacant house read of their problem in a newspaper and gave them a house, rent-free, until Nichols can find a job.

Mrs. Nixon said she accepted the decoration with pride for the American people and it would go in the presidential library as a reminder of mutual respect, affection and love.

Kentucky, Ohio Reach Accord On Tax System

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky and Ohio have reached a reciprocal income tax agreement.

Under the terms, persons living in one state and working in the other will not be required to file non-resident returns with the state in which they are employed.

Employees affected will have to pay all income taxes in their home state.

The revenue and taxation commissioners of both states said the reciprocal agreement applies only to income from salaries and wages.

New Quaker State Refinery Is Built

NEWELL, W. Va. (AP) — A new $42.7 million Quaker State oil refinery being constructed along the Ohio River near here is to begin production within the next three months.

Lee Forker, board chairman of Quaker State, described the new refinery as "the most modern and sophisticated lubricating oil refinery in the United States."

Occupying a 125-acre site, the refinery will process 10,000 barrels of crude oil per day, increasing Quaker State's capacity by 70 per cent.

Pickaway Grange

PICKAWAY YOUTH GRANGE Barbara McKenzie used a theme of "Friendship" for the devotions at the meeting of the Pickaway Grange Youth held at her home Sunday evening.

Sixteen members were present for the meeting conducted by Bonnie Bolender. Plans were completed for the annual youth conference to be held on Jan. 8 at the 4-H and Grange building on the fairgrounds. This conference is the largest one held in Ohio for grange youth and friends.

The conference this year will be directed by Bob and Diana Lands and will feature activities conducted by members of the Ohio Grange Youth Committees.

During the business session of the group, the Lands were delegated to attend the young marrieds conference in February. The group also decided to hold the next meeting at the home of Paul Dunkle on Feb. 6, beginning at 7 p.m.

Neil Armstrong Starts Career As Professor

CINCINNATI (AP) — David Burrell said he planned to sign up for Applied Aircraft Performance at the University of Cincinnati when he heard who the professor of the course would be. A coed who would not give her name said she just wanted to see the professor.

The UC students were talking about the first man to walk on the moon, Neil Armstrong.

The former astronaut from Wapakoneta, Ohio, taught his first class at the university Monday although he joined the school about three months ago. He has been named professor of aerospace engineering.

Most of the 18 students in the class said they were impressed with Armstrong but pointed out that he was nervous.

Democrats Ask Equal TV Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee wants free air time on the Columbia Broadcasting System to respond to President Nixon's appearance Sunday night with CBS correspondent Dan Rather.

The National Broadcasting Company also received a request for time from the Democrats to answer the NBC program "A Day in the Presidency," aired Dec. 21.

Neither network had a response to the requests, which were made in telegrams from Joseph A. Califano, the committee's general counsel.

First High School Basketball Poll Results Released

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There are some familiar names among the Class AAA and AA state high school basketball title challengers, but the Class A set is entirely new.

In the first Associated Press poll of the season Monday, Boardman, a third year ago, lodged in the top spot in class AAA and defending Class AA king Wellsville was No. 1 again.

Four of the Class AAA top ten of 1971 were back among the elite while there were three holdovers in Class AA.

Licking Heights, 5-1, located at Summit Station in Licking County, earned the No. 1 position in Class A. Heights is new to the rankings and the rest of the small school top ten are newcomers from last season.

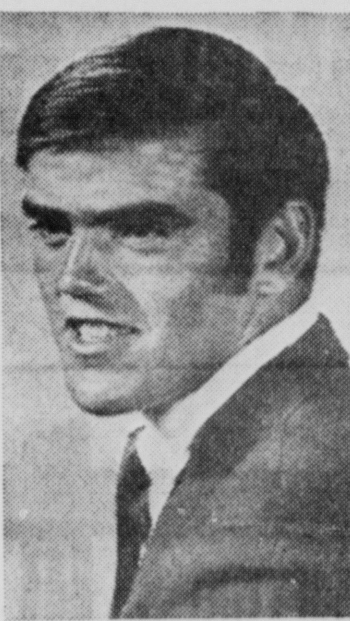

Boardman, off to a 7-1 start, piled up 167 points while defending Class AAA poll and state tournament champion Columbus Walnut Ridge, 7-0, was second with 128 points and Columbus South, 7-1, third with 88 points.

Fourth-place Celina, 8-0, which was No. 8 last winter, and eighth-place Findlay, 7-1, second in 1971, joined Boardman and Walnut Ridge as big school holdovers in the top ten.

Wellsville, 7-0 and working on a 25-game regular season victory streak, totaled 93 points to 79 for runner-up Granville, 7-0. South Point, 8-0, took third place in Class AA with 60 points.

Columbus Ready, 9-1, fourth this week and No. 9 last season, and Waverly, 5-2, second last year, but tied with Lexington for eighth place in the opening 1972 ratings, joined Wellsville as old faces in the top ten Class AA.

Tucker Named To Conference Gridiron Team

BOB TUCKER

Bob Tucker, former Teays Valley football star, is making quite a name for himself on the gridiron at Cowley County Junior College, Arkansas City, Kansas.

The rugged halfback was recently named to the first offensive team of the Kansas Jayhawk Junior College Conference.

Tucker, a freshman, compiled 662 yards in 126 carries for a fine 5.25 average per carry. He was eighth in the conference in kickoff returns with 231 yards in 13 attempts for an average of 17.7.

He added 400 yards pass receiving and was sixth in the conference in scoring with eight touchdowns and 16 extra points.

Always the key man for the Tigers, Tucker had his biggest day against Highland Junior College when he gained 147 yards in 14 carries caught five passes for another 112 yards and capped it off with three touchdowns.

Big Eight Teams 1-2-3 In Final Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"The Big Eight is the toughest conference... no contest," crowed Nebraska's All-American middle guard, Rich Glover, after the Cornhuskers demolished Alabama 38-6 in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

And the nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters who vote in The Associated Press' weekly college football poll apparently agree, because they voted Big Eight teams to the top three places in the final poll of the 1971 college season.

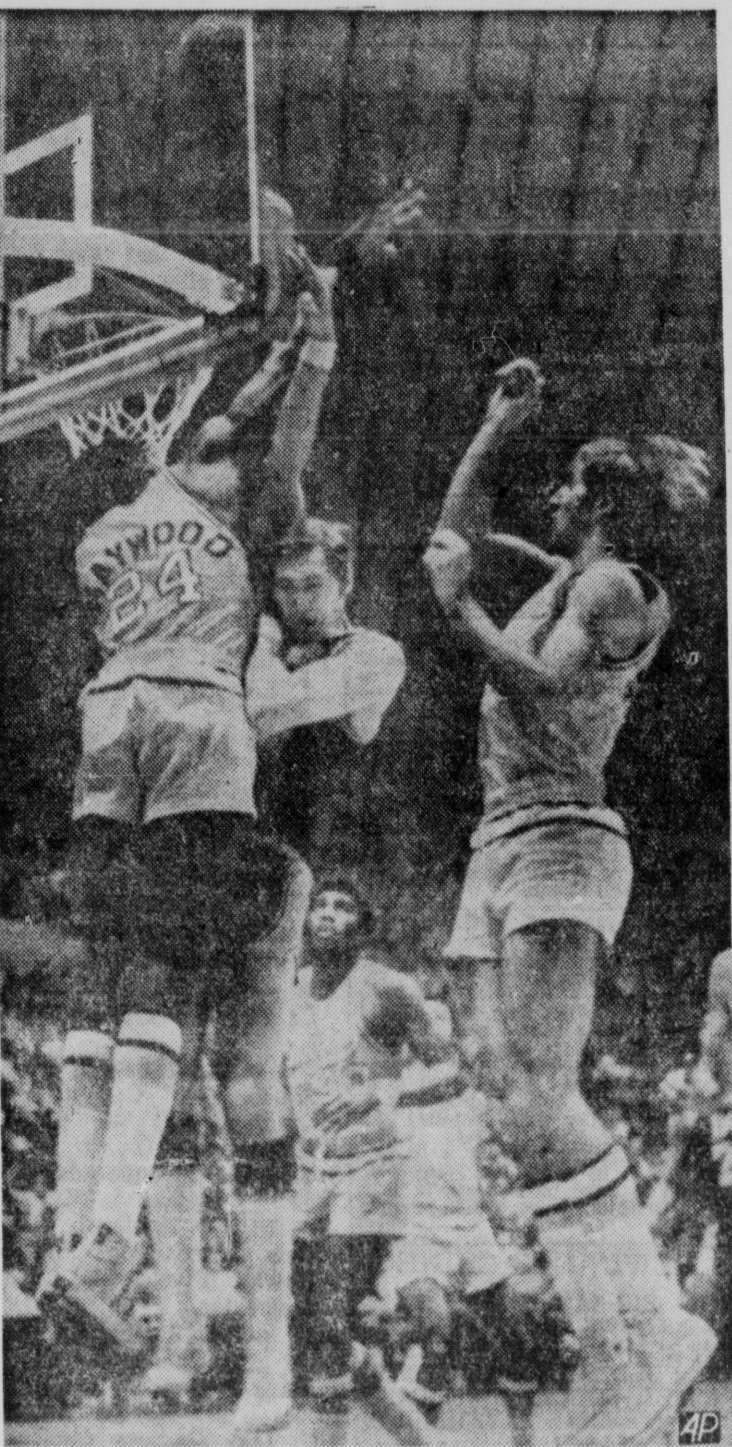

Nebraska, of course, took the top spot, garnering all 55 first-place votes for a perfect score of 1,100 points. Nebraska's rout of previously unbeaten Alabama completed a 13-0 season for Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers.

Oklahoma, 11-1 with the only loss coming at the hands of Nebraska 35-31 Thanksgiving Day, was a unanimous choice for the runner-up spot with 990 points after whipping Auburn 40-22 in the Sugar Bowl.

A third Big Eight team, Colorado, captured third place with 746 votes after defeating Houston 29-17 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl. Colorado's only defeat in a 10-2 season were to Nebraska and Oklahoma.

No conference had ever swept the top two spots in the poll, but the Big Eight went 1-2-3.

It was the second consecutive national championship for Nebraska, a team which has won its last 23 outings and has gone 32 games without a loss.

BLOCKED — Seattle Supersonic Spencer Haywood, 21, goes up and blocks a shot by Los Angeles Laker's Jerry West, 44, during their NBA game in Seattle. Los Angeles defeated the Sonics 122-106 for the Laker's 30th straight win.

Marquette Tops Wisconsin, 72-60

By ALEX SACHARE

Associated Press Sports Writer

At Marquette they call Jim Chones "Big Man"—and for good reason.

The 6-foot-11 Chones scored a career-high 31 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead second-ranked Marquette 72-60, to a 72-60 victory over arch-rival Wisconsin.

"It was Jimmy's best game ever—a ton," raved Marquette Coach Al McGuire, appreciative of his pivotman's performance. "I think Jimmy's off to the races now."

Wisconsin Coach John Powell could only agree.

Knicks Stop Milwaukee; Win 101-99

NEW YORK (AP) — Walt Frazier, a neutral observer, believes the Milwaukee Bucks, defending champions of the National Basketball Association, are better than the Los Angeles Lakers, the league's hottest team with 31 consecutive victories.

"I'll take the Bucks," said Frazier Monday night after he had sparked the New York Knicks to a 101-99 comeback victory over Milwaukee in a nationally televised game.

"They won the title last season," continued the veteran guard, "and the Lakers have a bad track record," a reference to Los Angeles' playoff performances in recent years.

"I don't think they can maintain their current pace," he added. "They've got to hit a slump, sooner or later."

At present, neither the Lakers nor Frazier show any signs of slumping. The Knicks' star has scored 20 or more points in 17 consecutive games, including 31 against the Bucks.

The Knicks-Bucks battle was the night's only NBA game.

In the lone American Basketball Association contest, Dallas overcame a 15-point deficit and edged Indiana 102-101 behind Donnie Freeman's 21 points. Roger Brown led the Pacers with 27.

Dolphins Coach Gets Call From President

MIAMI (AP)—Miami Dolphin coach Don Shula said he first thought someone was pulling his leg at 1:30 Monday morning when a late-night telephone caller identified himself as President Nixon.

"I started scrutinizing the voice, but in only a few seconds I knew it was the President," said Shula.

Nixon was calling the Dolphin coach to congratulate him on Miami's 21-0 shutout of the Baltimore Colts Sunday for the American Football Conference championship.

Sharp Shooting Gives OSU 94-76 Win Over Creighton

By GEORGE STRODE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Fred Taylor gulped down another pill for his touchy stomach and decided 57 per cent shooting by his Ohio State basketball team has to be a good sign for the Big Ten season starting Saturday.

"We certainly haven't shot that well this year," said Taylor after his defending Big Ten champion bounced visiting Creighton 94-76 Monday night to take an 8-2 record to Purdue.

"This will help all the kids to know we can bust loose. We've been shooting 38, 36 per cent each game and only 42 for the year," Taylor continued.

The Buckeyes, already deep in talent, uncovered another dependable substitute, sophomore Jack Wolf. The 6-foot-6 sophomore from Columbus ripped in 10 points and teamed with Alan Horynyak to lead an Ohio State comeback.

In other college roundball action Monday night, the University of Dayton pulled a surprise, 73-69 victory over favored Houston, breaking the Texas school's four-game winning streak.

Dayton led all the way except for a brief period in the second half when Houston took a 55-54 edge. Donald Smith of Dayton led both teams with 23 points. Dayton is now 4-5 and Houston is 6-4.

Defiance stretched its perfect season to nine consecutive wins with a 97-92 victory over Ohio Northern, now 4-4. Defiance had five men in double figures, led by Ken Bush's 19 points. Rick Scaletta led Ohio Northern with 21.

It took an overtime period to do it, but Akron University squeezed a 57-53 victory out of hard-playing Wittenberg. Akron's Larry Quarles scored all seven of his team's overtime points with a field goal and five free throws.

Akron now stands 7-1. Wittenberg has two wins against five losses.

Xavier never trailed against Marion, Ind., and finished with an 83-70 victory, sprinting to an early lead on a scoring spurt by Bob Fullerton, who led the Musketeers with 18.

Wright State failed to sustain a halftime lead against Thomas More of Kentucky and ended up on the losing end of the 76-61 final score.

Bill Higgins scored 24 points for Ashland as the Eagles met Earlham of Indiana, but it wasn't enough and the Eagles went down, 85-75.

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats parlayed a 27-point, 12-rebound performance by Lloyd Batts into an 81-73 victory over Drake of Iowa.

Big Ten Cage Powers Face Tough Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Ten basketball teams have carved a formidable record against intersectional foes this season, but they simply can't seem to cope with the two ranking powers.

Ohio State and Iowa, warming up for conference openers Saturday, came up with home-court victories but Wisconsin fell before Marquette's mighty Warriors.

The Buckeyes dumped Creighton 94-76 and Iowa recorded its fourth victory in the Hawkeyes' last five starts by downing Kansas 81-68.

Wisconsin took an early lead against Marquette but finally yielded to the undefeated Warriors 72-60.

The Big Ten now has a 58-31 record against intersectional foes with five of the losses coming at the hands of top-ranked UCLA and No. 2 Marquette.

Three other Big Ten teams will be in action tonight before everyone settles down to rest for Saturday's opening round of conference play.

Minnesota takes on Loyola tonight while Indiana plays at dangerous Northern Illinois and Michigan journeys to Princeton.

The Big Ten races opens Saturday with Illinois at Northwestern, Indiana at Minnesota, Iowa at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Michigan and Ohio State at Purdue.

Jerry West's Mark Surpasses Lakers

NEW YORK (AP) — If you think that the 31-game record winning streak that Los Angeles has put together in the National Basketball Association this season is amazing, consider Jerry West's mark.

With West in the lineup, the Lakers are 35-0 this season. Jerry missed five early season games and without him, LA went 2-3. Now that's amazing.

West is the No. 6 scorer in the league with a 25.4 average and is leading the NBA in assists with 9.5 per game according to official league statistics released today.

UCLA Continues Strongman Role In College Cage Poll

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Tournament triumphs have provided a bull market for Penn and Louisville, pushing their stock way up in the college basketball polls.

Penn, winner of the Kodak Classic last week, lusted ahead eight places to No. 6 and Louisville, a runaway victor in the Holiday Festival, also moved up eight spots to No. 7.

UCLA, meanwhile, continues in its familiar strongman role of No. 1 after winning its own Bruin Classic.

A nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters almost made it unanimous, handing the Bruins 41 first-place votes. Marquette, which won the Milwaukee Classic, got the only other top ballot and finished second in the voting, same as last week.

The Bruins collected a total of 838 points to the Warriors' 816, shaving the top-ranked team's lead from 48 last week.

North Carolina, winner of the Sugar Bowl Tournament, stepped up one place to No. 3 with 830 points. South Carolina, which lost the Quaker City Festival, moved back one spot to No. 4 with 443.

Indiana, champion of the Old Dominion during the tournament-happy holiday week, moved up two spots to No. 5 with 362 points.

After Penn and Louisville, Long Beach State held down No. 8 after winning the International City Classic; Virginia was No. 9 after taking the Palmetto Classic and Ohio State dropped four spots to No. 10 when beaten by UCLA in the Bruin finals.

Won-Lost records through Saturday night and total points on the basis of 20 for first, 18 for second, 16 for 14, 12 for 10, 8 for 8, etc.

One kid who busted loose for the Buckeyes was 6-1 guard Alan Horynyak, who led all scorers with 25 points. Horynyak scored 15 and reserve Jack Wolfe added 10 down the stretch.

In other major games Tuesday night, No. 15 Southwestern Louisiana outscored McNeese 89-80 behind 32 points from 6-9 soph Roy Ebron and 25 from Dwight Lamar.

Ron King scored 24 points to help No. 20 Florida State to an 88-70 triumph over Denver in the first round of the Senior Bowl basketball tournament. In the other first round pairing, St. Louis whipped South Alabama 78-61.

Elsewhere, Wichita State edged Bradley 71-67, Dayton upset Houston 73-69, sophomore Lloyd Batts scored 27 points to lead Cincinnati past Drake 81-78, Tulsa got 30 points from Steve Bracy and coasted past Trinity, Texas. 98-70 and Iowa tripped Kansas 81-68.

Also, 6-8 Marv Barnes scored 28 points and pulled down 21 rebounds as Providence defeated the Australian Nationals 75-64. Vanderbilt spoiled the opening of Louisiana State's new $11.5 million Assembly Center by defeating the Tigers 80-73. Ronnie Hogue and John Fraley scored 28 points each to lead Georgia past Rollins 112-77 and Texas-El Paso topped New Mexico State 75-59.

Fourth-place Celina, 8-0, which was No. 8 last winter, and eight-place Findlay, 7-1, second in 1971, joined Boardman and Walnut Ridge as big school holdovers in the top ten.

Wellsville, 7-0 and working on a 25-game regular season victory streak, totaled 93 points to 79 for runnerup Granville, 7-0. South Point, 8-0, took third place in Class AA with 60 points.

Columbus Ready, 9-1, fourth this week and No. 9 last season, and Waverly, 5-2, second last year, but tied with Lexington for eighth place in the opening 1972 ratings, joined Wellsville as old faces in the top ten Class AA.

Sharp Shooting Gives CSU 94-76 Win Over Creighton

By GEORGE STRODE Associated Press Sports Writer

Fred Taylor gulped down another pill for his touchy stomach and decided 57 per cent shooting by his Ohio State basketball team has to be a good sign for the Big Ten season starting Saturday.

"We certainly haven't shot that well this year," said Taylor after his defending Big Ten champion bounced visiting Creighton 94-76 Monday night to take an 8-2 record to Purdue.

"This will help all the kids to know we can bust loose. We've been shooting 38, 36 per cent each game and only 42 for the year," Taylor continued.

The Buckeyes, already deep in talent, uncovered another dependable substitute, sophomore Jack Wolf. The 6-foot-6 sophomore from Columbus ripped in

Jerry West's Mark Surpasses Lakers

NEW YORK (AP) — If you think that the 31-game record winning streak that Los Angeles has put together in the National Basketball Association this season is amazing, consider Jerry West's mark.

With West in the lineup, the Lakers are 35-0 this season. Jerry missed five early season games and without him, LA went 2-3. Now that's amazing.

West is the No. 6 scorer in the league with a 25.4 average and is leading the NBA in assists with 9.5 per game according to official league statistics released today.

10 points and teamed with Allan Hornnyak to lead an Ohio State comeback.

In other college roundball action Monday night, the University of Dayton pulled a surprise, 73-69 victory over favored Houston, breaking the Texas school's four-game winning streak.

Dayton led all the way except for a brief period in the second half when Houston took a 55-54 edge. Donald Smith of Dayton led both teams with 23 points. Dayton is now 4-5 and Houston is 6-4.

Defiance stretched its perfect season to nine consecutive wins with a 97-92 victory over Ohio Northern, now 4-4. Defiance had five men in double figures, led by Ken Bush's 19 points. Rick Scaletta led Ohio Northern with 21.

It took an overtime period to do it, but Akron University squeezed a 57-53 victory out of hard-playing Wittenberg. Akron's Larry Quarles scored all seven of his team's overtime points with a field goal and five free throws.

Akron now stands 7-1. Wittenberg has two wins against five losses.

Xavier never trailed against Marion, Ind., and finished with an 83-70 victory, sprinting to an early lead on a scoring spurt by Bob Fullarton, who led the Musketeers with 18.

Wright State failed to sustain a halftime lead against Thomas More of Kentucky and ended up on the losing end of the 76-61 final score.

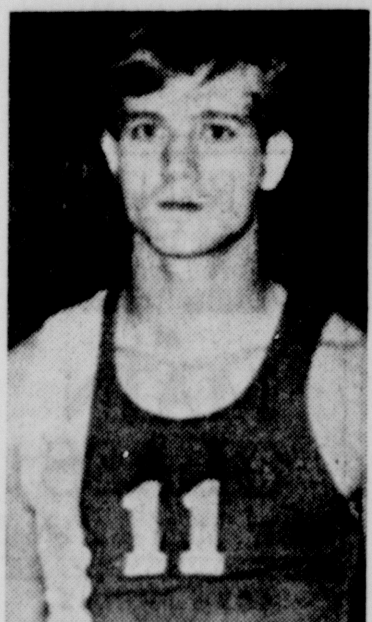

Bill Higgins scored 24 points for Ashland as the Eagles met Earlham of Indiana, but it wasn't enough and the Eagles went down, 85-75.

The University of Cincinnati Bearcats parlayed a 27-point, 12-rebound performance by Lloyd Batts into an 81-73 victory over Drake of Iowa.

Big Ten Cage Powers Face Tough Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Ten basketball teams have carved a formidable record against intersectional foes this season, but they simply can't seem to cope with the two ranking powers.

Ohio State and Iowa, warming up for conference openers Saturday, came up with home-court victories but Wisconsin fell before Marquette's mighty Warriors.

The Buckeyes dumped Creighton 94-76 and Iowa recorded its fourth victory in the Hawkeyes' last five starts by downing Kansas 81-68.

Wisconsin took an early lead against Marquette but finally yielded to the undefeated Warriors 72-60.

The Big Ten now has a 58-31 record against intersectional foes with five of the losses coming at the hands of top-ranked UCLA and No. 2 Marquette.

Three other Big Ten teams will be in action tonight before everyone settles down to rest for Saturday's opening round of conference play.

Minnesota takes on Loyola tonight while Indiana plays at dangerous Northern Illinois and Michigan journeys to Princeton.

The Big Ten races opens Saturday with Illinois at Northwestern, Indiana at Minnesota, Iowa at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Michigan and Ohio State at Purdue.

low 5.8 per cent, but went no further on how far or when that would be accomplished. The jobless rate is now 6 per cent.
Nixon echoed his chief economic adviser, Herbert Stein, in saying it may be possible to free the economy gradually as progress is made this year against inflation.

"We will keep controls on only as long as we need them, and we are going to decontrol just as fast as we can, as the inflation psychology runs its course," Nixon said in the CBS interview with newsmen Dan Rather.

Nixon had been asked to respond to a forecast by his just-resigned chief economic adviser, Dr. Paul W. McCracken, that some type of controls would still have to be in place beyond 1972.

"Perhaps," Nixon said, "except that if the program of controls is successful, as successful as we would hope that it would be, the amount of controls that we have towards the end may be far less than the statement by Chairman
McCracken implied.

"I see the decontrol coming perhaps at a faster pace, but we will keep them on if they are necessary," Nixon said.

See Continued Economic Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon says he will drastically reduce the coverage of his wage-price controls this year if they prove successful in easing the rate of inflation.

But Nixon acknowledged in a nationally televised interview Sunday night that some form of controls, although reduced in scope, still could be necessary beyond 1972. He also pledged to cut the national unemployment rate below 5.8 per cent, but went no further on how far or when that would be accomplished. The jobless rate is now 6 per cent.

Nixon echoed his chief economic adviser, Herbert Stein, in saying it may be possible to free the economy gradually as progress is made this year against inflation.

"We will keep controls on only as long as we need them, and we are going to decontrol just as fast as we can, as the inflation psychology runs its course," Nixon said in the CBS interview with newsmen Dan Rather.

Nixon had been asked to respond to a forecast by his just-resigned chief economic adviser, Dr. Paul W. McCracken, that some type of controls would still have to be in place beyond 1972.

"Perhaps," Nixon said, "except that if the program of controls is successful, as successful as we would hope that it would be, the amount of controls that we have towards the end may be far less than the statement by Chairman McCracken implied."

"I see the decontrol coming perhaps at a faster pace, but we will keep them on if they are necessary," Nixon said. Stein, interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers," said "there is certainly a possibility" that the wage-price controls could end before the November election. "My own expectation is that we will see a gradual decontrol," Stein said.

On unemployment, Nixon said the jobless rate rose from 3.6 per cent when he took office to the current 6 per cent because of his decision to wind down the war, which he said has brought 400,000 troops home and forced layoffs of 2 million workers in defense plants.

"In all the years of the 1960s, unemployment averaged 5.8 per cent, except in the war years," he said. "Now, we can do better than that, and as we move from war to peace in the year 1972, we are going to bring the unemployment rate below that."

CORN OVERFLOW — Part of America's 1971 corn crop is piled on the streets of Harper, Iowa, last November. With gain prices down and inflation boosting costs, the farmer is in an economic squeeze.

How Weather Looks Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Travelers warnings were issued for northern Ohio today as snow pushed eastward across the state.

Temperatures in the south were forecast to fall, bringing snow in place of rain later today. One to three inches of snow are expected.

Temperatures at dawn ranged from the upper 20s and low 30s in the north to the upper 30s and low 40s south. Toledo reported about one-half inch of snow on the ground at 6 a.m.

A cold front pushing across Ohio, coupled with a low pressure area centered over Mississippi this morning are responsible for the cold, snowy weather.

Snow will end tonight except for flurries near Lake Erie and in extreme southern Ohio. High pressure will move into Ohio Wednesday, bringing clear to partly-cloudy skies and cold temperatures. Highs in the 20s and 30s are forecast.

FORECASTS

OHIO—Travelers warning. Hazardous driving conditions northeast this evening. Accumulations of one to three inches of snow with locally higher amounts in the north are expected by tonight. Mostly cloudy tonight and cold with a chance of snow early tonight in the extreme south and near Lake Erie. Colder tonight with lows in the teens and low 20s. Partly cloudy and cold Wednesday. Highs in the upper 20s and 30s.

NORTHWEST INLAND, LAKE SHORE—Travelers warning. One to three inches of snow are forecast, with the possibility of higher amounts locally near the lake. Considerable cloudiness and colder tonight with a chance of snow flurries. Lows from the mid teens to low 20s. Partly cloudy Wednesday and continued cold. Highs in the 20s.

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL—Mostly cloudy tonight and cold with a chance of snow showers early. Lows from the mid teens to low 20s. Partly cloudy Wednesday and cold with highs in the upper 20s and low 30s.

SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST—Chance of snow early cloudy and colder. Lows in the upper teens and low 20s. Partly cloudy Wednesday and cold. Highs in the low to mid 30s.

Coaches Are Named For All-Star Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Mullaney of the Kentucky Colonels and LaDell Anderson of the Utah Stars were officially named Tuesday as the coaches for the American Basketball Association All-Star game in Louisville on Jan. 29.

Mullaney, whose team has a commanding lead in the Eastern Division, will coach the East club while Anderson will coach the West after leading the Stars to a runaway lead in that division.

Sheriff Dan Tehan, Political Giant At Cincy, To Retire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Long-time Hamilton County Sheriff Dan Tehan, also a veteran of officiating duties with the National Football League, plans to retire from his law enforcement post in November.

In announcing Monday that he will not run for re-election, the 61-year-old Democrat said, "I've been around for 29 years and that's long enough."

"Law enforcement is getting out of hand and it's getting to be more and more a tough job. Besides, I think it's time I do."

Csonka-Kiick Combo Eyes Super Bowl

MIAMI (AP) — The legend of Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid has spread to the Super Bowl.

"In the somewhat gruesome, even blood-thirsty world of pro football," said Sundance, "we go more for playing the game for enjoyment."

Sundance is 237-pound full-back Larry Csonka. Butch is Jim Kiick, his 215-pound running mate in the Miami Dolphins' backfield.

"We're a couple of guys who seldom show how serious we are," said Csonka. "So, after the movie about Butch and Sundance became so popular, we were likened to the screen pair."

The Miami Herald dressed Csonka and Kiick in 19th Century finery for a portrait that graced the cover of the newspaper's preseason football section.

An automaker liked the pose and contracted the Dolphin aces to dress up again for a television commercial.

Dolphin fans went wild about their heroes and the Herald began selling color copies of the portrait at 50 cents a copy. Many a Miami kid's wall is papered with Butch and Sundance.

"Jim and I became close friends, but it's been somewhat overdone," said Csonka, who was walking off the leftover hurts Monday from Miami's 21-0 playoff victory over Baltimore 24 hours earlier.

vote a little more time to my wife."

Tehan has served as sheriff in predominantly-Republican Hamilton County for the last 24 years. He was a deputy in the sheriff's office five years before that. He has never lost an election.

John Wiethe, cochairman of the Hamilton County Democrats, called Tehan's announcement a surprise and said he had no idea who the party might choose to run for sheriff. He said Tehan has not recommended anyone.

For the past seven years, Tehan has been an observer for the NFL and he said he intends to continue in that capacity "until they fire me." As an observer, Tehan has to watch and report on the performances of officials.

Tehan served as an official himself for 35 years. He was 21 when he began officiating in the NFL. He worked as a head-linesman in the first NFL championship game in 1933 and 30 years later, he worked the New York Giants and Chicago Bears championship contest.

He has worked under five NFL commissioners.

Tehan also umpired professional baseball games for seven years before he turned to NFL officiating.

DeLong Will Head City Board In '72

Dale DeLong was moved into the president's seat during the reorganization Monday afternoon of the Circleville Board of Education.

DeLong assumed the seat previously held by R. L. (Bud) Brehmer Jr. for nine years. Brehmer retired this year and was replaced on the five-member board by Dr. Robert Liggett. Named vice president was Tom Elsea.

Other members of the board for 1972 are Ruth Kraus and Forrest Brown.

During a brief business session, the new board voted to re-employ clerk Mary Ellen Rader for a four year term.

THEY also employed a new third grade teacher at Nicholas Drive. Mrs. Anna Hicks, a new resident of Circleville and teacher with seven years experience in education, will assume the post vacated by Mrs. Linda Miller. Mrs. Hicks taught this year at East Pike Elementary in Indiana, Pa. and is a graduate at Indiana State College in Pennsylvania.

Members also approved a new salary schedule for non-certificated employees effective Jan. 1, 1972 to bring the local schedule up to new state standards.

Forrest Brown was reappointed to an additional four year term on the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Board. The other city member is Tom Elsea who has two more years to go on his original four year term.

The board set as their regular meeting date the second Tuesday of every month beginning 7:30 p.m.

Plan Invitation To China For Talks

FRANKFURT (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed in behind-the-scenes talks at the United Nations to invite Communist China to participate in the Geneva Disarmament Conference, the Frankfurter Rundschau reported from Geneva today.

The newspaper said Washington and Moscow also had agreed to call the 26-nation disarmament conference back into session on Feb. 29.

Quoting informed sources in Geneva, the report said the Russians and the Americans had not yet decided how to approach Peking with an invitation. The report said two possibilities were similarly worded but separate invitations from Washington and Moscow or a joint invitation from the two governments as cochairmen of the disarmament conference.

Company Merger Is Consummated

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Parker-Hannifin Corp. of Cleveland announced today that it has completed its acquisition of Ideal Corp. of Brooklyn, N. Y.

A spokesman said the merger of Ideal into a Parker-Hannifin subsidiary became effective at the close of business Dec. 31, 1971, and involved the issuance of 570,000 shares of Parker-Hannifin common stock.

Army Says Ex-GI's Story False

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is at odds with a story told by a self-exiled Vietnam veteran living in Paris who said he fled the United States "because I've learned to be ashamed of being an American."

The Army verified that David B. Johnson, 26, of Tacoma, Wash., served in Vietnam and that he was convicted of violating Army regulations and sentenced to the Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., military prison. The Army also confirmed that Johnson later escaped.

Johnson had outlined that chronology to a reporter in Paris last month. He said he had supported the war at first but that alleged brutalities committed by American soldiers against Vietnamese soured him on the cause.

Monday, the Army disputed several points of Johnson's account.

Johnson said he spent most of 1968 in Vietnam assigned to the 101st Tiger Force, a commando-type unit.

But the Army said he was there only from Aug. 20, 1968, to Sept. 18, 1968, when he was sent to Japan to be hospitalized for treatment of malaria.

Johnson said he was wounded Sept. 13, 1968, and evacuated to a U.S. Army hospital from which he went AWOL and fled to Canada only to be arrested the next year and returned to American authorities.

The Army said a preliminary check turned up no record of Johnson being wounded on that date, but it would have to check further.

Johnson said the Army charged him with desertion and drawing $42 in excess pay, then put him through "a kangaroo court" and sentenced him to four years in Leavenworth.

The Army said Johnson was sentenced to 45 days confinement for being AWOL from July 1969 to October 1969 and was placed in the Martin Army Hospital prison ward at Ft. Benning, Ga.

After Johnson escaped from the prison ward in November 1969, the Army said, he was returned to custody and sentenced to three years at Ft. Leavenworth in February 1970 for assault, fraud and escape from previous confinement. The assault charge was based on an attack on a Ft. Benning hospital guard, the Army said.

The fraud charges involved $7,458, the Army said. It contended that Johnson received at least part of that sum by using false papers to receive higher pay than that to which he was entitled.

Donad R. Hurley, a native of Williamsport, has been appointed international banking officer of Marine Midland Bank Western.

Hurley lives in Snyder, New York. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Hurley, Dayton.

The Army said Johnson was sentenced to 45 days confinement for being AWOL from July 1969 to October 1969 and was placed in the Martin Army Hospital prison ward at Ft. Benning, Ga.

After Johnson escaped from the prison ward in November 1969, the Army said, he was returned to custody and sentenced to three years at Ft. Leavenworth in February 1970 for assault, fraud and escape from previous confinement. The assault charge was based on an attack on a Ft. Benning hospital guard, the Army said.

The fraud charges involved $7,458, the Army said. It contended that Johnson received at least part of that sum by using false papers to receive higher pay than that to which he was entitled.

Plan Invitation To China For Talks

FRANKFURT (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed in behind-the-scenes talks at the United Nations to invite Communist China to participate in the Geneva Disarmament Conference, the Frankfurter Rundschau reported from Geneva today.

The newspaper said Washington and Moscow also had agreed to call the 26-nation disarmament conference back into session on Feb. 29.

Quoting informed sources in Geneva, the report said the Russians and the Americans had not yet decided how to approach Peking with an invitation. The report said two possibilities were similarly worded but separate invitations from Washington and Moscow or a joint invitation from the two governments as cochairmen of the disarmament conference.

Enter Guilty Plea To Manslaughter

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 44-year-old Cincinnati area woman, Eulalia Fuchs, has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of first-degree manslaughter in the fatal shooting of her husband, Robert, 40, last Sept. 19.

Mrs. Fuchs was arrested after the shooting which followed an argument over whether a radio broadcast of a football game, or a stereo record should be played.

After entering the plea Monday, Mrs. Fuchs had a probation hearing set by Judge Robert Kraft of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court.

Johnson said he spent most of 1968 in Vietnam assigned to the 101st Tiger Force, a commando-type unit.

But the Army said he was there only from Aug. 20, 1968, to Sept. 18, 1968, when he was sent to Japan to be hospitalized for treatment of malaria.

Johnson said he was wounded Sept. 13, 1968, and evacuated to a U.S. Army hospital from which he went AWOL and fled to Canada only to be arrested the next year and returned to American authorities.

The Army said a preliminary check turned up no record of Johnson being wounded on that date, but it would have to check further.

Johnson said the Army charged him with desertion and drawing $42 in excess pay, then put him through "a kangaroo court" and sentenced him to four years in Leavenworth.

Charles E. Wilson, Former GE President, Dies At 85

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Charles Edward Wilson believed that most people who fail want it badly enough to do the hard work—there just ain't no golden chariot that will take you there."

Wilson himself worked 60 hours a week and his labors took him from office boy to president of the General Electric Co. and to key posts as the government's industrial mobilization director during World War II and the Korean War.

When he died Monday in Lawrence Hospital at age 85 he held honorary degrees from 21 colleges and universities despite the fact that he had left school after the eighth grade to take that first office boy's job.

Wilson's special gift lay in his ability to solve complex industrial problems, to synthesize the suggestions of associates, brush aside the trivialities and quickly arrive at a decision.

He was often confused with Charles Erwin Wilson of General Motors, who served as secretary of defense under President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Because GM's Wilson was often referred to as "Engine Charlie," GE's Wilson became known as "Electric Charlie."

As head of General Electric, Wilson was making $175,000 a year when President Franklin D. Roosevelt called on him in 1942 to take the $1-a-year post as vice chairman of the War Production Board.

In two years on the board he was able to increase the production of military aircraft to a record 93,369 in 1944, but resigned later that year after a series of disputes with other production board officials.

His performance was so impressive that President Harry S. Truman named him director of the Office of Defense Mobilization during the Korean War, with full authority and full responsibility as Wilson wanted.

President Eisenhower picked Wilson in 1956 to be president of the People to People Foundation, which promoted international understanding during the cold war.

In recent years Wilson lived in Scarsdale, N.Y. His wife, Elizabeth, died a year ago. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Hugh Pierce, and one grandchild.

The funeral is scheduled for Thursday at the First Baptist church in White Plains.

DeLong Will Head City Board In '72

Dale DeLong was moved into the president's seat during the reorganization Monday afternoon of the Circleville Board of Education.

DeLong assumed the seat previously held by R. L. (Bud) Brehmer Jr. for nine years. Brehmer retired this year and was replaced on the five-member board by Dr. Robert Liggett. Named vice president was Tom Elsea.

Other members of the board for 1972 are Ruth Kraus and Forrest Brown.

During a brief business session, the new board voted to re-employ clerk Mary Ellen Rader for a four year term.

THEY also employed a new third grade teacher at Nicholas Drive. Mrs. Anna Hicks, a new resident of Circleville and teacher with seven years experience in education, will assume the post vacated by Mrs. Linda Miller. Mrs. Hicks taught this year at East Pike Elementary in Indiana, Pa. and is a graduate at Indiana State College in Pennsylvania.

Members also approved a new salary schedule for non-certificated employees effective Jan. 1, 1972 to bring the local schedule up to new state standards.

Forrest Brown was reappointed to an additional four year term on the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Board. The other city member is Tom Elsea who has two more years to go on his original four year term.

The board set as their regular meeting date the second Tuesday of every month beginning 7:30 p.m.

Year End Accident Report Released By Sheriff's Office

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff announced his department's traffic accident and offense reports for the month of December and 1971.

The sheriff's office investigated 69 accidents in December and 893 for the year. One person was killed in a fatal accident investigated for the month. There were 14 people killed in 12 fatal accidents investigated during the year.

Of the 23 injury accidents investigated in December, 33 persons required treatment, 383 motorists were injured in 266 accidents investigated in 1971.

There were 43 property damage accidents investigated in December and 434 for the year.

OF the accidents investigated in December, 12 were caused by improper speed, and 10 were the fault of not having the car under control.

For the year past, the department attributes 124 accident causes to failure to have a car under control. There were 112 accidents caused by driving left of center, 90 caused by speed, and 82 caused by reckless operation.

Reckless operation offenses were ticketed the most by the Sheriff's office — both for December and 1971. Five offenders were arrested during the month and 36 were arrested during the year.

The department made 21 total arrests in December and 201 for the year.

Worst time to be driving in December, according to the number of accidents investigated, was between 6 and 7 p.m. Friday.

Worst time during the year would be, on the average, between 2 and 8 p.m. Wednesday, Friday or Saturday.

NINE of the accidents investigated in December occurred in Harrison Twp. There were eight each in Circleville and Darby Twp.

Circleville Twp. showed the most accidents for the year — 151. There were 90 each in Pickaway and Washington Twp.

that he was convicted of violating Army regulations and sentenced to the Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., military prison. The Army also confirmed that Johnson later escaped.

Johnson had outlined that chronology to a reporter in Paris last month. He said he had supported the war at first but that alleged brutalities committed by American soldiers against Vietnamese soured him on the cause.

Monday, the Army disputed several points of Johnson's account.

—Johnson said he spent most of 1968 in Vietnam assigned to the 101st Tiger Force, a commando-type unit.

But the Army said he was there only from Aug. 20, 1968, to Sept. 18, 1968, when he was sent to Japan to be hospitalized for treatment of malaria.

—Johnson said he was wounded Sept. 13, 1968, and evacuated to a U.S. Army hospital from which he went AWOL and fled to Canada only to be arrested the next year and returned to American authorities.

The Army said a preliminary check turned up no record of Johnson being wounded on that date, but it would have to check further.

—Johnson said the Army charged him with desertion and drawing $42 in excess pay, then put him through "a Kangaroo court" and sentenced him to four years in Leavenworth.

The Army said Johnson was sentenced to 45 days confinement for being AWOL from July 1969 to October 1969 and was placed in the Martin Army Hospital prison ward at Ft. Benning, Ga.

After Johnson escaped from the prison ward in November 1969, the Army said, he was returned to custody and sentenced to three years at Ft. Leavenworth in February 1970 for assault, fraud and escape from previous confinement. The assault charge was based on an attack on a Ft. Benning hospital guard, the Army said.

The fraud charges involved $7,458, the Army said. It contended that Johnson received at least part of that sum by using false papers to receive higher pay than that to which he was entitled.

Enter Guilty Plea To Manslaughter

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 44-year-old Cincinnati area woman, Eulalia Fuchs, has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of first-degree manslaughter in the fatal shooting of her husband, Robert, 40, last Sept. 19.

Mrs. Fuchs was arrested after the shooting which followed an argument over whether a radio broadcast of a football game, or a stereo record should be played.

After entering the plea Monday, Mrs. Fuchs had a probation hearing set by Judge Robert Kraft of the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court.
